Pioneer Week Program Will Start Monday

All Events Of Week Will Be Climaxed By Banquet March 30

GOVERNOR JAMES ESPECIAL GUEST

Pioneer Week To Center Attention Upon Development Of Industry Here

Monday, March 25, marks the opening of Pioneer Week in New Castle and for six days the celebration will continue, coming to a climax Saturday night, March 30, in a banquet in the Cathedral. The banquet is a testimonial to the industrial leaders of New Castle and the adjoining townships. The principal speaker will be Governor Arthur H. James.

Pioneer Week is not for the purpose of honoring the dead, it is for the inspiration and encouragement of the living, a public expression of the citizens who in the past forty years have blazed new trails, who today are forging ahead with programs of development and expansion. Pioneer Week is a community bow to the 107 diversified industries of the city.

Help Ourselves

The activities incident to Pioneer Week are the result of the conviction that everything we need to advance our progress is here if we but realize it; that in us ourselves, in each individual one of us, lies the responsibility for our success or our failure. Each and everyone doing his or her part will contribute to our economic well being.

The question may be raised as to what part the individual can take in the Pioneer Week celebration. This question can be answered by stating that the New Castle News

Liner Queen Mary Is On High Seas

Big British Ship On Secret Mission, Safely Out Of New York Harbor

WILL JOIN WITH LINER MAURETANIA

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 22.—The big 81,000-ton liner Queen Mary, once empress of the British merchant marine, was speeding a zig-zag course at her full 28 knots somewhere at sea today bound on a secret war mission.

It was believed the $25,000,000 liner would soon overtake its smaller sister ship, the Mauretania, which departed New York harbor 12 hours earlier, and that together they will serve as troop ships.

Face Danger

A hint that the Nazi pocket battleship Deutschland may possibly have been given orders to sink or intercept one or both of the big ships was contained in a broadcast from the German short wave station DJD in Berlin, overheard here. The radio announcement, interrupting a program, said:

"And now, something special. Attention! This is for the brave crew of the Deutschland. Wherever you are at this moment: Success! And now we are playing for you boys and March Blaue Jungens (blue boys)."

When last observed before disappearing into the ocean mists off Long Branch, N. J., yesterday morning, the Queen Mary appeared to be headed southward on the regular Bermuda run. Popular belief was that either or both ships will transport Australian troops to the near east where the allies are congregating a vast military force.

Congress Given Sharp Warnings About Economy

Secretary Morgenthau Sends Letter To Democratic Leaders On Farm Bill

SENATE PREPARES TO PASS MEASURE

Congress Warned That Funds Are Not Available To Meet Huge Sum Called For

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Roosevelt administration sent two sharp economy warnings to congress today, as the senate prepared to pass the $1,000,000 farm bill.

The warnings were sent in the form of two letters, one from Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, the other from the general accounting office, to Senator Harry Byrd (D) Virginia, one of the leading economy advocates on Capitol Hill.

These two letters notified Democratic leaders, who voted for $212,000,000 of parity payments and $85,000,000 of commodity surplus disposal funds in the farm bill, that the money cannot be taken from the treasury general fund to carry this load. The house refused to provide these funds. Both Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, an acitve administration lieutenant, suggested on the senate floor that the money be taken from the general fund.

Morgenthau's Warning

Dealing with this suggestion, Morgenthau wrote Byrd:

"In view of the large amount of demand obligations now outstanding which the treasury may be called upon to meet . . . it is felt that the estimated working balance of the treasury on June 30, 1940, as contemplated by the president's budget, will be about as low as it can be permitted to go."

Freak Snowstorm Makes Highways Dangerous Today

Highways East Of Pittsburgh Are Reported In Icy Condition

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 22—Breaking over the Alleghenies, a freak Good Friday snowstorm today laid a four to six inch blanket of snow on main highways that hampered Easter week end motoring east of Pittsburgh.

Sub-freezing temperatures turned stretches of Routes 22 and 30 into icy patches, the Pittsburgh Motor and Automobile clubs reported.

Between Laurel Ridge and Bedford a blizzard struck early today. Somerset reported eight inches of snow.

Pittsburgh itself had only a scattering of light snow and traffic was unaffected.

At the municipal airport the temperature fell to 22, while weatherman W. S. Brotzman predicted a low of about 15 by tomorrow morning and probably the same chill for Easter Sunday, clear weather however, was expected to prevail.

State Has Large Sum Available For Road Work

Over $6,600,000 Federal Funds Available For General Highway Improvement

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—Pennsylvania at the beginning of March had available for new highway and grade crossing projects a total of $13,531,159 in unobligated Federal funds, the Public Roads Administration reports.

The bulk of this, $6,637,261, was for regular Federal-aid highways. A sum of $435,923 was for secondary or feeder roads. The state still had left over from the old 1935 work relief program a small balance of $87,675 for miscellaneous highway improvements.

Grade crossing grants remaining available to the Keystone state on March first aggregated $6,370,300.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The capital today eagerly awaited James H. R. Cromwell's reply to the most stinging rebuke publicly administered to an American diplomat by a secretary of state in recent history.

Secretary Cordell Hull last night informed the U. Cromwell was warned not to repeat the error.

Grim Warning On Air Warfare

Britain And Germany Are Still Only "Sparring" In Aerial War

LONDON, March 22.—A grim warning that Britain and Germany are still only "sparring" in the air and that German cities will be bombed if German planes bomb British centers was placed before the British public today.

Britain's vice air marshal, Ernest Leslie Gossage, in a broadcast war commentary, declared:

"The enemy's air warfare has deteriorated already and things may slip still further downhill. Cities and industrial towns may come in for it. If it happens . . . Murder Mystery Believed Solved

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—With the arrests of suspects in New York and Washington, police today believed they were nearing solution of a five-year-old murder mystery—the baffling garrotting of Miss Winifred Flannery, 61-year-old housekeeper for a retired Philadelphia army officer.

Nabbed in bed in an Astoria, L. I., rooming house early today was Santo Luggerio, 31, described as a "small time racketeer" and as a figure in the slaying. Luggerio was picked up by New York detectives and booked on fugitive from justice charges. At the same time, Washington detectives arrested Luggerio's sister, Mrs. Angela Lagana, 35, and her husband, John A. Lagana. Washington police also were said to be looking for one or more additional suspects.

Next Congressional Probe May Be Centered On S.E.C.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Powerful Securities and Exchange Commission may be the next New Deal agency to be subjected to a congressional investigation, it was disclosed today.

High ranking house Democrats—including some who forced the investigation of the National Labor Relations board—have held conferences on the subject, with indications that a resolution for a special investigation soon may be laid before the house.

The movement assumed more than ordinary importance because it includes some veteran house members who sponsored the Smith committee investigation into the labor board. This inquiry may result in revision of the Wagner labor act at this session.

Criticism of S. E. C.

Criticism of the SEC embraces two separate phases. One is that harsh rules of the SEC are stifling investment in business enterprises and therefore are retarding business expansion.

A second criticism is that examiners and other officials of the SEC have adopted an "arrogant" attitude in their conduct of hearings throughout the country. This charge is similar to one which brought on the labor board investigation.

New York Forecast Is For Clear Easter

Fair And Colder Is Forecast—Snow Falling Over Large Area Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 22 — With a blanket of snow extending over an area from Philadelphia, Western Pennsylvania and most of New England, the New York weather bureau today predicted clear weather shortly and stated that Easter Sunday would be fair and colder.

The snowy skies were clearing in Philadelphia and New York but snow was still coming down all over New England except in Maine.

The fall in metropolitan New York was estimated at slightly more than one inch.

Meanwhile, William Tracy, government meteorologist at Syracuse, N. Y., reported that the farewell blast of winter had played a trick with snow that is rarely seen in weather history. Vast sections of the frozen surface of Oneida Lake and fields in the outskirts of the city were dotted with huge snowballs which looked like frozen jelly rolls. These were the results of freak conditions of the snow, wind and atmosphere. The phenomenon was last reported in 1880, Tracy said.

SOVIET TREASON IS ASSAILED IN SPEECH

"War Is Total" And France Is Out For Nothing But Complete Victory

By MERRILL MUELLER

PARIS, March 22.—In a declaration as brief as it was forceful, Premier Paul Reynaud went before the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon with a pledge that France will fight "total war" until the "genius of destruction" guiding Nazi Germany is totally wiped out.

The new chief of state presented his 22-man war cabinet to the chamber, asked for parliamentary cooperation and gave the country all that it desired in a promise to wage determined warfare to the finish.

Significantly, he linked Soviet Russia with his indictment of Germany.

"For us to win is to save all that we have. To lose is to lose all that we have.

State Finances To Provide Problem

Relief Funds Running Low

Mystery Surrounds Efforts To Meet Situation Without New Taxes

SEVERAL METHODS AMONG SUGGESTIONS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 22.—An air of mystery today surrounded the efforts of the James administration to find sufficient revenue with which to finance relief without increasing taxes.

Running counterwise to Gov. Arthur H. James' repeated assertions that there will be no new taxes this year is mounting evidence that no sources exist at present from which sufficient funds may be obtained to finance relief for the remainder of the year, much less the entire biennium.

Relief Funds Run Low

Pennsylvania's two-year relief budget of 121,000,000, which was supposed to last until June 1, 1941, will be exhausted within less than two months, a contingency which is expected to force Governor James to call a special session of the legislature for May.

Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan, chief fiscal officer of the James administration, conceded there were just five methods by which additional revenue for relief could conceivably be obtained.

1. Taxes.
2. Transfers from special state funds.
3. Surplus income from existing taxes.
4. Departmental savings.
5. Curtailment of present departmental expenditures.

A sixth method was made use of by the Pinchot administration when hospital subsidies were held back for relief purposes. A supreme court decision upheld the legislature's right to divert funds from what it termed "secondary" governmental activities.

will on March 30 augment the regular issue and designate the same as "Pioneer Week Special Edition." This paper will contain information relative to New Castle—what has been done and what it is hoped to accomplish, and if each citizen in New Castle will secure one or two copies or more and mail them to some friend, relative or business associate outside the city, the advantages which New Castle possesses for industrial locations will be thereby broadcast to the entire United States.

The Program

Monday, March 25, is to be Labor Day. Special meetings are being arranged by the various lodges of union labor, the flags will be displayed in the sidewalk holders, and on this day labor's part in a greater New Castle will be stressed. Industrial displays will open in downtown display rooms and will continue throughout the week.

Tuesday is Merchants' Day, with every merchant in the city, practically, co-operating. The stores will have exhibits of their own, featuring pictures or articles that go back to the early pioneer days.

Wednesday is Transportation Day with the railroads co-operating with transportation displays. Thursday is City Day in which the citizens are invited to acquaint themselves with the city government, the city owned property, to visit city hall and take a first hand look at their city headquarters. Friday is County Day with the same invitation open so far as the county is concerned as is true of the city on Thursday.

Saturday is "The Day." This is the day that will head up all the activities of the previous weeks. The peak will be reached in the evening when the Pioneer Dinner is held in the Cathedral. Just how many will attend is a question but the probabilities are that the ticket sales will have to be limited to 1,200. Governor Arthur H. James will be the speaker and probably will discuss his own state-wide plans for the rejuvenation of industry in Pennsylvania.

is known, has been informed that there is widespread criticism of the operation of his agency in both senate and house. He is expected to hold conferences in an effort to allay criticism and avoid a possible sweeping investigation.

Hits Enterprise

The only organized congressional drive on the SEC comes from western state members, who charge that SEC requirements make impossible the launching of new, small mining enterprises. Western congressmen have carried this complaint to the SEC, charging that business expansion is being retarded.

Another group in congress contends that the SEC, by making issuance of stocks and securities issues expensive, has discouraged formation of small enterprises and is discouraging "venture" capital.

The movement in the house for an investigation was revealed after Rep. Cox (D) Georgia, a leading member of the house rules committee, served a warning on the SEC that it is rapidly becoming unpopular with members.

Rep. Bruce Barton (R) New York, widely known advertising executive, said the SEC has eradicated many abuses and protected the investor, but has dismally failed to promote the flow of capital into private industry.

Dear Pa Newc:—

Thursday evening a lady called to tell me about a bird that was knocking off the loose bark on a tree, and surely this bird was doing the tree harm. Now this lady is not acquainted with the Nuthatch and the good work he does, by dusting off bits of decayed or loose bark with its long beak, to obtain grubs or larvae hidden beneath. The nuthatch never sucks the sap from trees, as some folks think he does. This bird is the winter gleaner of species of grubs that are hidden in the tree bark awaiting the first touch of the warm spring sun to send them on their way of destruction. The nuthatch is a winter bird, migrates in the spring and returns when the cold days come. The nuthatch is the savior of the oak trees as there are over 400 different species of bugs and grubs that work on the oaks. This bird wastes no time during the day, in its quests for food at sunup until dusk, he is working on the trunk of rough bark trees. Remember, these cold days when food is scarce, birds starve, so please scatter some feed for them.—Owen Penfield Fox.

ter largely comprised statistics, and advised that on June 30, 1940, the working balance would be "brought down to the low figure of $514,225,114."

The letters pointed out that present budget plans, as announced by President Roosevelt some time ago, call for expenditure of more than $1,000,000,000 of the treasury's present general fund, i. e., working balance. Withdrawal of this amount will reduce the balance to its lowest point since the outbreak of the European war, when the cash on hand was sharply increased in preparation for any international emergency.

To Pass Bill Anyhow

Any further reduction, such as withdrawal of the approximately $200,000,000 that will be needed for parity payments and commodity surplus disposal, would be impossible, from a practical standpoint, the letters said.

Despite the administration warning, passage of the farm bill was expected shortly after noon, with most pending amendments scheduled to be brushed aside.

Senate action will send the legislation back to the house for concurrence, with leaders predicting acceptance of the parity payments and commodity surplus disposal funds. However, because the senate made nearly a hundred changes in the bill, mostly minor, considerable time will be consumed before the bill finally becomes law.

Even the staunchest advocates of the farm benefit payments have admitted that the farm bill will carry the public debt beyond the $45,000,000,000 statutory limit, unless sharp slashes are made in the big national defense bills still pending ,or new taxes are levied.

Reynaud received no applause when he went to the tribune, but the deputies cheered him on two occasions—first upon his reference to Soviet "treason" and again when he pledged complete coordination of the nation's war activities.

At the conclusion, there was mild applause, although the entire right remained silent.

Members of the radical Socialist party had indicated they would abstain from the initial vote of confidence, making immediate downfall of the cabinet likely but later information said they had reconsidered their decision.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier, Reynaud's predecessor and minister of war and national defense in the new cabinet, was absent from the chamber session.

Reynaud read the declaration to his so-called "victory" cabinet a short while before going to the chamber to ask immedate parliamentary approval of his ministerial selections and war aims.

Attacks Regime

Louis Marin, rightist leader, vigorously attacked the Reynaud regime.

"It is neither a national union nor a war cabinet," he said. "It fails to correspond to what the country wants, whether headed by a super-cabinet or even a super-super-cabinet."

The chamber will soon learn, Marin warned, how gravely a real war cabinet is needed.

"You will see that in early diplomatic, military and even internal developments," he said.

"I can tell you even before you start asking that I and my friends are ready to deny confidence in this government."

AWAIT CROMWELL'S BUKE ON HIS SPEECH

ed through a press statement, caused some surprise even among state department officials. Earlier this week most of them had thought Cromwell would receive, at most ,a private admonition from Hull.

Neither Germany nor any other foreign government protested Cromwell's speech, in which he attacked American isolationist policy and said an allied victory was essential to the preservaton of democracy, state department officials said.

Strong Condemnation

But the speech evoked strong condemnation in congress, where Rep. George H. Tinkham (R) Massachusetts called either for Cromwell's recall from Canada or his impeachment by the house. This criticism, combined with what some state department officials considered the "cavalier attitude" of the envoy in saying in his speech that he might be "sticking his neck out", were believed responsible for Hull's drastic action.

In other branches of the government, public criticism of an official by his superior is not extraordinary. But the state department—oldest and most dignified of the government agencies—rarely washes its dirty linen in public. Therefore Hull's open rebuke to Cromwell was considered drastic punishment.

Cromwell Silent

NEW YORK, March 22.—For the time being, James H. R. Cromwell, U. S. minister to Canada, kept his silence today concerning the stinging rebuke administered to him publicly by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Cromwell and his wife, the former Doris Duke, flew from Canada to their home in Somerville, N. J., for the Easter week-end.

At Cromwell's Fifth avenue office in New York, a spokesman said:

"Mr. Cromwell has left town. Until he visits Washington he will not comment. He will probably go to Washington before next week."

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Gilkey.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Gilkey, wife of Frank E. Gilkey of New Galilee, died this morning at 2:25 o'clock at her residence, following an illness of nine months' duration.

Mrs. Gilkey was born in Big Beaver township, Beaver county, the daughter of Joseph and Caroline Fry Malone. She was a resident of New Galilee and its surrounding district all during her lifetime. Mrs. Gilkey was a faithful member of First Presbyterian church of New Galilee.

Surviving are her husband, Frank, and the following children, J. Knox Gilkey of North Beaver township, Francis Lyle Gilkey, Mrs. Jeane Main, W. Wayne Gilkey, all of New Galilee and W. Gale Gilkey of Enon Valley. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. I. E. Grier of New Brighton and Mrs. W. S. Caskey of Mt. Jackson; a brother, J. E. Malone of New Galilee, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence in New Galilee Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. J. V. Koontz of the First Presbyterian church of New Galilee in charge. He will be assisted by W. W. Willis of the United Presbyterian church of New Galilee. Interment will follow in Rocky Spring cemetery.

Charles Warren.

Charles Warren, aged 41 years, a resident of 216 Montgomery avenue, died suddenly at his home this morning at 4 o'clock. His death is believed to have been caused by a heart attack.

Mr. Warren was a resident of the seventh ward for the past 14 years.

Surviving are his wife, Caroline Pulmerie Warren, and the following children, two sons, Anthony and Rudolph, and two daughters, Edith and Rose Marie, all at home. He also leaves four brothers, Tony and Carmen Warren of Cleveland, O., and John and George Warren of Hillsville.

A high mass of requiem will be celebrated Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Lucy's church, with the Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito in charge.

Interment will be made in St. Lucy's cemetery.

Trimble Funeral Services.

Funeral services for the late Ivester L. Trimble, of 1419 East Washington street, were conducted from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. R. J. Fredericks, pastor of the Calvary Tabernacle in charge.

Pallbearers were John Warner, Herman Braatz, William Trimble, Earl Jordan, William Smith and Warren E. McMillin.

Interment was made in Savannah cemetery.

Young Man And Bride Of Month Burned To Death

(International News Service)

LINCOLN, Mich., March 22.—Clayton Gibbs, 22, and his bride of a month, Mable, 22, were burned to death in their log cabin home five miles north of Lincoln today.

Coroner A. L. Spencer, who recovered the bodies from the charred ruins of the cabin, said the fire probably started from an overheated chimney. He ordered an inquest.

The fire was discovered by Gibbs' brother, Walter, who had left the cabin an hour before to drive a friend home. He was unable to enter the blazing structure.

a $21,000 five-passenger Stinson cabin monoplane. We knew we were over Chicago when the instruments iced up at 4,000 feet. We saw the dim outlines of tall buildings and then spotted a tugboat on the lake.

"Our only hope was to come down near the tug. We hit the water 500 feet from it. None of us was badly injured, but the plane began sinking immediately. We were afraid the suction would drage us under, and began swimming away from the plane.

"The water was rough and cold. Finally the men in the tug threw us a rope. Rose was getting weak but we got the rope around his waist. The men hauled him to the side of the boat, but just then the rope slipped and he sank. I couldn't grab him."

Conrad and Hagan were taken to St. Luke's hospital, suffering from cuts, shock and exposure.

SPEAKER FEATURES ART CLUB PROGRAM

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. John L. Loudon of Engelwood avenue, opened her home to members of the Art club, at which time, they had as guest speaker, George Miller, art instructor of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College.

Presiding in the absence of president, Mrs. E. J. Connery, Mrs. R. F. Conway conducted a short routine period. A beautiful painting, the gift of Millard Greer in memory of his mother, the late Mrs. Charles Greer, was presented to the club at this time. The gift holds a wealth of significance, inasmuch as Mrs. Greer was a devoted and most highly esteemed member of the organization.

Program chairman, Mrs. C. G. Snyder, introduced Prof. Miller, who gave a lecture on "Painting Trip To The Gaspe Penninsula"' which was most colorful and interesting. Prof. Miller having made two extensive motor tours of this northern country, spoke with authority on his chosen topic. He related enthusiastically, the beauty, grandeure and life of the country and told of its people. In addition he exhibited some of his own paintings, inspired by this tour. A discussion ensued.

On April 18, Mrs. F. M. Alexander of 323 Park avenue, will receive members for their regular meeting.

Plans were completed at this time for the Easter dance, which will be an event of Monday evening in the Crystal ball room, of The Cathedral, which promises to live up to the usual high standard of the Rainbow.

During the course of the evening's ceremony, Wednesday, a pleasing program was rendered, which included the following numbers: Violin solos, Csardas, by Monti; and Romany Caprice, by Weber, Idagene Mitchell, accompanied by Marjorie Allen.

Duet, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," Lavenia Thomas and Betty Fowler, accompanied by Mrs. Owen Thomas.

Piano solo, "Valse in E Flat Major,"' Durand, Helen Louise Singer.

Playlet, Audrey Bridenbaugh, Isabelle Paul, Mary Louise Gibson, and Jeannette Kulkin.

DINNER PARTY FOR R. R. CLUB

R. and R. club members motored to a suburban tea room Thursday evening and enjoyed a prettily appointed Easter dinner party. A special guest was Mrs. John Figuly.

Cards were featured and winners were Mrs. Wesley Wolfe, Mrs. Harold Brown and Mrs. George Kuder.

ELMA E. BADGER BRIDE OF CLAIRE E. ALFORD

This morning at 11:30 o'clock a pretty wedding ceremony marked by simplicity took place in the parlors of the Third United Presbyterian church, when Miss Elma E. Badger, daughter of Mrs. Mattie A. Badger of 927 Adams street, became the bride of Claire E. Alford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Alford, 915 Adams street. A large assemblage of friends and guests witnessed the exchange of vows, with the Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, pastor, officiating with the single ring service. The church altar was beautifully arranged with an embankment of ferns and palms, providing a solid green background for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her brother, Jeff Badger, the bride was attired in a street length light beige dress, made princess style, with jacket effect. Her accompaniments were carried out in poudre blue, and and a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses completed her attire. A necklace worn by her grandmother on her wedding day, which is an heirlomo, was her only jewelry. Mrs. Frank Davis, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and she chose a dress made identical, also street length, was poudre blue in color, with dusty rose accompaniments.

Harry Alford served his brother as best man.

Providing appropriate music for the occasion, Miss Kathryn Newbury, organist, played preceding the entrance of the bridal party, "The Swan", by Saint-Saens; "Berceuse", by Clarence Dickenson, and "Leibstraum", by Liszt. The Lohengrin Wedding March was offered for the processional and Mendelssohn's for the recessional. During the exchange of vows Miss Newbury contributed strains of "O Promise Me". A congratulatory period followed in the church.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families was served at a prominent tearoom downtown, places marking for 24 guests. The all-white theme was used in the nuptial appointments throughout.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Badger wore an aqua dress with navy accessories, and the bridegroom's mother selected a heavenly blue dress with navy accompaniments. Their corsages were similar, made up of pink roses.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Alford departed on a short wedding trip, and for traveling the bride donned a smart black and white ensemble with accessories in white. Upon their return they will take up residence in their new home, now nearing completion, at 1029 Rose avenue.

The bride, a member of the teachers staff at the West Side school, graduated from Indiana State Teachers' college and Geneva college. The groom, who attended New Castle Business college, is affiliated with the Pennsylvania Power company of this locality.

Out-of-town guests were present from Latrobe, Pittsburgh, Titusville and Youngstown, O.

As a courtesy to Mrs. I. L. Harper, formerly of this city and now a resident of Cumberland, Md., the Ladies C. T. P. group of the B. and O. have plans completed for a dinner party, to be given on Wednesday evening, March 27, in a prominent tea room, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harper, a faithful member of the organization while living in this vicinity, is on a short visit here. This occasion has been arranged for her pleasure, to provide an opportunity for the honoree to greet former friends and renew acquaintances.

Those planning to attend, will get in touch with chairman, Mrs. Leo Whalen of Ray street, by Monday noon.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB GUEST NIGHT PROGRAM

Associates of the Junior Women's club assembled Thursday evening in the home of Elizabeth Wallace on the New Bedford road. The event was in the form of a presidents and guests night, all presidents of the federated clubs in the county being invited. Approximately 50 guests including guests and members were present for the occasion.

Miss Roberta Sedgwick, program chairman was in charge. Two piano selections "Dedication," and "Air de Ballet" were given by Edna Weide. A report on the 9th annual Herald-Tribune conference in New York City, on "World Affairs" was given by Mrs. Keith McAfee. Mrs. Lillian Buckner favored the group with two vocal selections "A Little Song," and "Sheep and Lambs," with Mrs. Camerer accompanying on the piano.

An informal social time followed with the hostess pouring tea. Included on the assisting committee were Mary McBride, chairman; Sarah Patterson, Elma Robinson, Belle Offutt, Martha Matthews and Dorothy Robinson.

EPWORTH SOCIETIES JOINT TEA MEETING

At prettily arranged tables members of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Epworth Methodist church, entertained at a tea party, honoring Women's Foreign Missionary members of the church Thursday afternoon, for their mite box opening program.

Mrs. H. M. Allen had charge of devotionals. Mrs. C. L. Sipe discussed, "North of The Rio Grande and Mexicans." Mrs. Harold Reynolds had charge of the mite box opening. Mrs. J. E. Jackson and Mrs. D. E. McCreary accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. H. Andrews, sang "His Love Is Wonderful To Me." Mrs. Harry Marshall gave a history of the first mite box opening. Mrs. Andrews pleased with the piano solo, "The Shephard Idyl," by Geibel. Mrs. C. E. Miller gave the reading "Silver Lining."

Tea and cakes were served at the close and Mrs. W. A. Thornton poured. Mrs. J. E. Jackkson and members of the official staff of the Women's Home Society planned the event.

MRS. HOLMES CLASS ELECTION ASSEMBLY

Mrs. W. J. Holmes' Bible Class of the Central Presbyterian church, assembled Thursday evening in their rooms, for a business and social time combined. Election of officers occurred with Mrs. S. A. White, president; Mrs. John Atkinson, vice president; Mrs. Fred Stickel, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Woodings, treasurer.

Mrs. White presided over routine affairs, and following, the assemblage enjoyed a tasty lunch, served by Mrs. S. A. White, Mrs. Margaret Woodings and Mrs. Edward Winter, co-hostesses in charge.

Shower Honors Member

Mrs. Chester Biddle was honored with a shower by Jedema club members when they assembled in the home of Mrs. Raymond Locke, West State street, Wednesday evening.

Hours were spent in playing 500, at three tables, with prizes going to Miss Peg Kennedy, Mrs. Chester Biddle, Mrs. Lois Gilghrist and Miss Dot Kennedy.

Mrs. Biddle was presented with an array of lovely gifts, after which an Easter lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Hilda Gilette.

In two weeks, Mrs. Harry Culbertson, Shaw street, will entertain.

K. O. Club Meeting

Mrs. Harry Reese, Crawford avenue, received K. O. club members in her home Thursday evening. Cards provided the chief pastime with Mrs. George Campbell and Mrs. Findley Boyd being awarded high score prizes. Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being aided in serving by Mrs. Clare Uber.

Next meeting will be April 11 in the home of Mrs. F. D. McPheeters, Maryland avenue.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION IS HELD

As a medium of celebrating the golden wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Warner, an informal reception was given Wednesday afternoon by their daughters, Mrs. Harry H. Purvis of Scotland Lane, this vicinity, in the Warner residence at Mt. Chestnut, Butler County, with the hours from 2 until 4 o'clock being observed.

The occasion attracted many relatives, friends and neighbors of the honored couple, and tea and refreshments were served, with the gold and white theme predominating in the appointments throughout. Many of the articles used in the table and lunch, were gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Warner on their twentieth and fortieth wedding anniversaries. Two lovely tiered wedding cakes were prominently placed, the gifts of Miss Ethel Scheidemantle of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. William Bales of Zelienople. Aides included Mrs. E. E. Unlenburg of Wexford and Mrs. J. F. Warner of Middle Lancaster, also, Mrs. G. O. Scheidemantle, Mrs. E. Womer and son, Clyde, Harry, Ralph and Kenneth Purvis of New Castle, Augusta Slater, Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of Butler and Mrs. A. Davis of Sharpsburg.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with choice potted plants and bouquets being arranged throughout in every nook and corner.

Many beautiful gifts, appropriate to the occasion, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Warner, in addition to telegrams, cards and other remembrances.

Dr. S. Wilmer, Beitler, family pastor, presided over the entertainment, which offered music and other diversions for the assemblage present.

ANOTHER SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Another lovely shower was given Thursday evening in honor of Miss Anna Bell Rogers, bride-elect of the Rev. William McCreery of Tourington, Wyo., when Miss Maurine Smith entertained informally at her home on Sheridan avenue.

The guest list included close friends of the honoree, and they joined in a period of games and other features. Lunch was served at the close, the hostess being aided by her sister, Betty Smith.

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was received by Miss Rogers.

Campbell-Hennon

An impressive wedding ceremony took place on Wednesday noon, at the Chewton Christian church, uniting in marriage Alice Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell, and James Hennon, son of James Hennon. Rev. Charles P. Durbin officiated, using the single ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Jean Kurtz was the maid of honor and Thomas Houk served as best man. Ushering were Wayne and Eugene Campbell. A period of nuptial music was played by the bride's sister, Marian Campbell.

Following a brief reception at the church, a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home.

The young couple will reside at Chewton. Guests attended from New Castle, Koppel, Brackenridge, Knox and Ellwood City.

Prosser-Kennedy News

END THIS FOREIGN SILVER BUYING

THE Senate Banking and Currency Committee's 14-to-4 vote in support of the Townsend bill to end all treasury purchases of foreign silver, except those covered by existing contracts, is a bright note of economic sanity in a dreary world.

Few American legislative follies, for sheer futility and costly worthlessness, rank with the silver purchase plan declares the Inquirer of Philadelphia.

Since 1934, when the silver-buying act was passed, the treasury has piled up nearly two billion ounces of domestic and foreign silver, at a cost of a little less than one billion dollars.

For what purpose? Ostensibly to raise prices, particularly farm prices, and help restore prosperity.

With what result? With the result that we have loaded up on unwanted and unneeded silver, paying bounties for silver to some nations whose devotion to us is at least dubious and doling out subsidies to our own silver-producing states.

Under the act of 1934 the silver-buying plan was to continue until the market price reached $1.29 an ounce or the treasury owned $1 of silver for every $3 of gold.

But after six years of this nonsense the price for newly mined domestic silver is fixed by statute at 71.11 cents an ounce; the world price, now paid for foreign silver, is 35 cents and we are far, very far, from attaining the goal of one part silver to three parts gold as a monetary base.

Meanwhile, we have bought silver with reckless abandon from whoever would sell. We have paid inflated prices for Mexican silver in spite of Mexico's sneering seizures of American property. We have bought silver from Japan, including white metal presumably grabbed by the Japanese in their brutal war on China.

The silver-buying has made Uncle Sam the Lord Bountiful to foreign countries at the expense of his own tax-payers.

It is high time we got down to earth on this silver and gold business and stopped being suckers for sellers of these metals. We have more of them than we can use or will need in a long time.

If we stop buying foreign silver, the world price will probably sag and our silver pile will be worth less than we paid for it. But it is better to take a loss now than go on compounding silliness and storing up bigger losses. Congress ought to pass Senator Townsend's bill without delay.

GOOD FRIDAY—AND THEREAFTER

Today, on the altars of ritualistic churches, the great Christian emblem of suffering and triumph—The Cross—will be swathed in the investiture of mourning. The heart of Christians throughout the world is humbled in commemoration of the passion and death of Christ. Men of good will who profess other religions will pause at this solemn moment to share in the meditations that this particular Good Friday brings to Christendom.

All mankind lives in a present world of fear and uncertainties. Americans are more fortunate than their European friends and brothers, to whom a gas-mask—A. D. 1940 model—has become a familiar article of personal equipment. What the future will bring to Europe and to the world none knows and none is wise enough to predict. Religion teaches men how to live and teaches them also how to die.

Good Friday is not the end of the Christian drama, nor are suffering and death the end of life. There comes the glorious promise of Easter morning. In that promise, both as to the individual and as to nations, the world still rests its confidence.

FRENCH REVOLT ON WAR POLICIES

The French Cabinet upset undoubtedly reflects popular dissatisfaction, in Great Britain as well as in France, with the Allies' conduct of the war, and their failure to seize the initiative on the military or diplomatic front.

The fall of Premier Daladier, in conformity with "parliamentary tradition," significantly followed by only a day the vigorous attack in the British Commons on the war policies of Prime Minister Chamberlain. Both leaders recurrently have been on the defensive since their participation in the fateful Munich conference in 1938.

Premier Daladier, as virtual war dictator of France, was a strong and capable leader, faced with vast difficulties.

Paul Reynaud, who has been remarkably successful as finance minister, conceivably has a future of further distinguished service in France. It is yet to be seen, if he has succeeded in forming a cabinet, that will meet the growing clamor for a more active war in his new role as prime minister, however.

GIVE A THOUGHT TO THIS

It would be difficult to find a more inappropriate time for cruelty than Easter. Yet the practice of giving live rabbits, chickens and ducks to small children as Easter toys has made this season one of wholesale, if unintentional, cruelty to helpless animals.

To youngsters the impulse to maul and squeeze the soft cuddly creatures is irresistible. Too often the pets are not properly fed or otherwise cared for. A novelty for the moment, children quickly tire of them and turn to other forms of amusement.

It is not that parents, or children, either, mean to hurt these little creatures, but only that they are careless and forgetful about the needs of a young and helpless animal.

Bunnies and chicks and ducks are not inanimate toys. Those who obtain them for their children should make sure that they do not become the victims of neglect or cruelty.

Americans must be dragged into libraries, says an educator. The question is, can libraries hope to compete with the great American custom of borrowing new books with no thought of returning them?

Time continues to march on and bring many changes. One scarcely thinks any more about the college boys who used to gulp goldfish.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EASING MOTHER'S NERVOUS STRAIN

I guess fathers know little of the nervous strain to which the average mother of young children is subjected. Since she has no maid, she not only has the burdens of the household, but also the care of the little children.

No matter how systematic she may be, one or two children who are beginning to creep or toddle bring constant interruption. The cake is about ready to be taken from the oven when Jean, four, inadvertently pushes the door against the fingers of her baby brother. Or the mother is talking on the telephone when the baby screams as if seriously injured. Jean has just rescued from his grasp the precious doll he had appropriated. Perhaps dinner guests are expected within two hours and the dinner program is considerably delayed. Mother is pressing forward at her best when Jean is heard from the rear of the house. She had fallen and slashed her knee. First aid must be applied. It is just time for the baby's dinner and he is yelling for attention.

Any mother knows about these trying times with the little children at home. If she goes away with the children, even if she has nothing to do but to care for them, she rarely will have a moment to rest and relax. If these children are under five or six, a number of new problems will emerge just because they are not home. There are many new places and persons calling for many new adjustments. Of two or three children, the youngest will likely get most attention, stirring up feelings of jealousy.

For a mother to be engaged in household affairs all day is in itself a heavy task; but so to spend day after day, with constant interruption and constant attention needed by the children and on top of all this to have her sleep at night often curtailed or interrupted, calls for expenditure of physical and nervous energy about which fathers know little. Most fathers would be ready for the mad house after a few days of it.

How so many mothers can live through it all is a wonder. A mystery to me is that so many mothers not only live through it, but smile through it and maintain their youth remarkably well, while their childless sisters, comparatively free of such care and nervous strain wrinkle and grow old at a younger age.

Opportunity For Dads

We dads have an opportunity to reduce their burdens, and will if we care. We can't, of course, supply the infant with nature's food. But there is nothing else about the baby's care we cannot learn to do well, in case we choose to do it.

Let any father of one or two children under five send his wife off for a day or two of complete rest, and stay home himself and take care of the children, if he thinks her job is easy. Then he will change his mind. I have tried it. It works.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

GOOD FRIDAY

(And they all forsook Him and fled. Mark 14:50.)

Master, in that cruel hour, on the page I see,
All who had professed to love thought it best to flee.
When they came with sword and stave and the test began,
None there was who dared to stay.
All in terror ran!

None save Judas, who betrayed!
Only he of all
Dared to venture and to speak in the judgment hall.
Even Peter turned away! Even Peter lied!
Peter, just to save himself, three times Thee denied!

In the testament of deeds, human and divine,
This one from the book of Mark seems the bitterest line.
Almost brutal are the words. I shudder as they're read:
All who had professed to love forsook Him there and fled!

I USED TO KILL BIRDS

I used to kill birds in my boyhood.
Bluebirds, and robins and wrens;
I hunted them up in the mountains,
I hunted them down in the glens;
I never thought it was sinful—
I did it only for fun—
And I had rare sport in the forest
With the poor little birds and my gun.

But one clear day in the springtime
I spied a brown bird in a tree,
Merrily swinging and chirping,
As happy as bird could be,
And, raising my gun in a twinkle,
I fired, and my aim was too true;
For a moment the little thing fluttered,
Then off to the bushes it flew.

I followed it quickly and softly,
And there to my sorrow I found,
Right close to its nest full of young ones,
The little bird dead on the ground!
Poor birdies! For food they were calling;
But now they could never be fed,
For the kind mother-bird who had loved them
Was lying there bleeding and dead.

I picked up the bird in my anguish,
I stroked the wee motherly thing
Who could nevermore feed its dear young ones,
Nor dart through the air on swift wing.
I made a firm vow in that moment,
When my heart with such sorrow was stirred,
That never again in my lifetime
Would I shoot a poor innocent bird!

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

Here I have a letter from a reader asking me to scold doctors for tactless and alarmist talk within the hearing of sick patients. And I think my correspondent thus complains with some justice. Many physicians lose their popularity and ultimately their practice because their patients dread their pessimism. Several times within my immediate circle, I have known wrong diagnoses to convert normally-minded people into neurotics and hypochondriacs. The tactful doctor who is already sufficiently prosperous to resist the temptations to list a patient for regular treatments will confide his suspicions to the patient's parent, wife, husband, brother or sister if they are grave enough to induce fear. I know of two brothers who prepared for death—one of them on the strength of a false diagnosis of coronary thrombosis that proved to be only indigestion and another because of a wrong diagnosis of "Ludwig's Angina," which proved to be only a salivary calculus or stone in the salivary gland. And how many women have had their whole lives ruined by overhearing false fears that should have been confided only to their families until fully confirmed?

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: We are giving our first dinner party and would appreciate your advice as to the proper choice and arrangement of glassware on the table.—B. G.

Answer: In addition to your drinking glasses, the glassware on your table may now properly include plates and dishes as well as cups, saucers and finger bowls.

At dinner, always place a stemmed goblet at the right of each plate; at breakfast and luncheon, a water tumbler in the same position.

For a dinner party, supplement your water goblet with a cocktail glass and one or more wine glasses in red or yellow colors if red or yellow wine is to be served.

If the cocktail is to be served in the drawing room before dinner, you would, of course, omit cocktail glasses from the dinner table, whereon all glasses should stand in a straight line at the right of the water goblet, somewhat toward the center.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

"Oh, because he waited so many years before doing it."

Move To Curb Power Of Agencies
Own Rulings Adopted By Bureaus
Has Hampered Administration Work

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

The administrative functions of our government are bewildering. Which means that the ordinary American citizen is so befuddled by the barbed wire entanglements surrounding the more than one hundred boards, commissions, bureaus and nondescript agencies, all affecting in various degrees the rights and interests of the taxpayers, that something has to be done about it.

It all started when the first of these sub-departments was set up many years ago. But those were comparatively simple times and certainly there was then no deliberate purpose to inaugurate a super-government now irritating and confusing almost every element of our national life.

All Is Confusion

Of recent years government by edicts, rules, regulations and orders, arbitrarily set up by swarms of petty political appointees, has thrown a thousand monkey wrenches into administrative gears. In the making of this mess of regulations neither Congress, the courts nor the public, for that matter, have had a part.

The helpless victims of this vicious system have practically no method of protection against injustice or redress in appeal to the courts.

Something must be done about this growing menace of despotism and Congress proposes to do it. So today we have up for consideration in both houses of Congress bills designed not to curb the rightful functioning of administrative agencies, but merely to regulate them and free the public from on-rushing despotism that—leading to its logical conclusion — as the Senate judiciary committee pointed out, "could but result in totalitarianism with complete destruction of the division of governmental power between the federal and state governments."

To Regulate Regulation

The process by which Congress expects to relieve this situation with the least possible political blood letting is to enact legislation to "govern the governors and regulate the regulators."

The regulatory bill which has been approved unanimously by the judiciary committee of both houses of Congress is known as the Logan-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

OBSERVATIONS POLITICAL

I am a Republican. I have always been a Republican, because I believe its social and economic doctrines are sounder than those of the opposition party, which invariably have been experimental, risky, improvident, and frequently fantastic.

As a free-born citizen of a free man's country, I hold that, for the past seven years of political domination under Franklin Roosevelt the Democratic party has not only failed to uphold, preserve and defend these principles which are the only hope for future happiness among the American people, but it has added fuel to the flames which are consuming our institutions of freedom, and worse yet, it has been guilty of promulgating a philosophy of self-indulgence, extravagance and indolence, which is glorifying nation-wide charity, and sapping the last vestige of self-respect and self-reliance of our people. This sort of a thing caused the fall of the Roman Empire and is the sure road to human decay.

If America continues in the direction it is now going, and has been going for the past seven years; if we return the President and the New Deal to authority for another four years; if we are maneuvered into this new world war, then, I shudder to think what might happen to those things we hold dear.

More than two-thirds of all the people of the world already are at war. America today, is by way of speaking, Custer's Last Stand for Civilization. The United States, with its vast wealth, its limitless resources, its technological skill, its productive capacity, and its social, economic and religious freedom, is the envy of the world.

But by every known pressure it is being urged that we throw our might into this new war. The Allies, England and France, intimate in no uncertain way, that we should realize that this is our war, the same as theirs. That it is a struggle against Dictatorship, Totalitarianism. Our sympathies are touched by the outraging of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Finland. Our sense of honor and integrity are stunned by the impositions inflicted upon these courageous but helpless little nations.

Without meaning to indulge in cheap sensationalism, nor to rave as an unreasoning and lopsided partisan, I believe we are warranted in holding President Roosevelt and His Administration almost wholly responsible for the wide-spread growth in this country, the past few years, of that thing called Radicalism, and which has become articulate in the thousands of new people who have associated themselves with the Communists and other bright colored groups. They have almost reached a degree of power where they can wreck a man or institution that presumes to exercise the privilege of a free country, in opposition to their ideologies.

To return the present administration to power would certainly mean a decided change in the American form of government and a complete wrecking of the Constitution and its attendant Bill of Rights. It would mean a Communistic Dictatorship.

The Great Game Of Politics

Hatch Act Hypocrisy

WASHINGTON, March 22. The passage by the Senate of the expanded Hatch Act, the purpose of which is to promote decent politics and diminish the power of the Federal machine to perpetuate itself, exhibited neither the Democratic nor the Republican party in a particularly favorable light.

SO FAR as the latter is concerned, perhaps it is unfair to go behind the record and certainly the bill would have been killed but for Republican votes. Nevertheless, there was about the solidity of their support a gloating and hypocritical smugness which sufficiently revealed that their attitud was inspired more by thoughts of political advantage than inherent virtue. In other words, if this had been a Republican administration, the Republican Senators would have taken no such unified stand for purity.

ON the contrary, allowing for a few conscientious exceptions, they were for the bill, first, because it involved the Democrats in an acrimonious split; second, because it lessened the weight of the Federal machine against them in the coming campaign. With them, being pure in heart and playing practical politics were identical. It would be encouraging if that were more often true. At any rate, while a realistic view precludes acceptance of the Republican motive as wholly noble, it cannot be denied that they contributed toward ending recognized political abuses and making politics a cleaner dish.

ON the Democratic side, the fight showed a strange mixture of hypocrisy, cowardice and conviction. That the President gave the bill merely lip-service support was attested by the fact that so many rubber-stamp Senators, whom he could easily have influenced — such as Guffey, Pepper, Smathers and Schwellenbach —vehemently fought the bill. On the final vote a majority of the Democrats voted for the bill, but that was the only vote on which there was a majority.

ON the really vital votes—the votes for recommittal and emasculating amendments — less than a majority of Democrats stood by the bill, and there were some conspicuous absentees. Those were the tests on which the bill was saved by seven and, in one case, four votes. Days before the final vote the passage of the bill had been conceded. It had gotten over the last hurdle and could not be stopped. Then it was that various bold Democratic Senators who had dodged every test ballot appeared and voted for the bill, thus making a favoring record, whereas their calculated absence on the test votes had aided the bill's foes.

IT was the same old game that the trimmers always play. They evade or avoid voting when their votes might be decisive, but rush to be recorded after the victory has been won and there is no danger. It was the some game p'yed in the Supreme Court fight of 1937, when quite a few Democratic Senators refrained from taking a stand against the President's bill until after its defeat was assured. Then they courageously came out against it. The truth about this Hatch bill is that a majority of the Democrats in Congress do not want it because this is an election year, most of them are up for renomination and the Federal machine, whose activity would be curtailed by this law, is their machine. There are some among them honestly opposed to the bill on State rights grounds, but the bulk of the opposition was politically inspired—and no one disputes it.

IT will be the same way in the House. That the bill will get through that body is at least doubtful. As in the Senate, the Republicans will piously line up behind it, but a majority of the Democrats will try either to kill it outright or render it impotent by amendments. A good many will be held in line by the weight of public sentiment and newspaper support—and some will be for it as a matter of conviction. In all probability the vote will be close. Opponents of the bill are aided by the general feeling among Democrats that its defeat would not grieve the President and that voting against the bill will not be held against anyone at the White House.

IN other words, it distinctly is not an Administration measure. A factor in the ultimate fate of the bill also will be the feeling that the Attorney General, Mr. Jackson, a very partisan person, will not be overzealous in enforcing this law in the coming campaign — particularly if, as he hopes, he, himself is on the Democratic ticket. In fact, one cynical member a few days ago asserted that this law if enacted, would be violated with the same impunity as the late unlamented Volstead Act of the prohibition period.

Walter bill and it will come up for passage probably at this session of Congress. It would not restrict the proper functions of any administrative agency, but it would require that when new laws are passed, the rules and regulations which interpret them must be formulated and made public. It would provide for a uniform system of appeals, and would make final decision or order by the administrative agency subject to court review.

The leadership in this long fight for reform of procedure in our administrative system must be credited to Colonel O. R. McGuire, chairman of the committee on administrative law of the American Bar Association.

Some of the most distinguished lawyers in America have participated in the drafting of the bill now before Congress to regulate procedure before government administrative agencies. In this work active assistance has been given by such high authority as Professor, now Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Felix Frankfurter, a former member of the committee of which Colonel McGuire is chairman.

Non-Political

The bill before Congress is neither New Deal nor anti-New Deal.

A former governor of New York has asserted that, "already there are enough governmental agencies combining in the same individual or individuals, executive, legislative and judicial powers without a single restraint upon their exercise, to make this a government of men and not of law, though the forms of law may be preserved."

Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court is quoted as asserting that: "The distinctive development of our era is that the activities of our people are largely controlled by government bureaus in state and nation . . . a host of controversies as to private rights are no longer decided in the courts."

"I doubt," said Colonel McGuire, "if there is any more important problem before our people today than this movement to reform the inquisitors' usurpation of power among the more than one hundred administrative agencies that today exercise a personalized and arbitrary totalitarian power over individual American citizens, with the citizens helpless to secure redress from the courts. The Logan-Walter bill is in fact a new bill of rights. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say a return to the bill of rights assured us under the constitution."

Try to avoid repetition of words in your conversation. Many people prefix "now" or "and so" to their talk, or keep repeating "see," or "you know" or "see what I mean?" and it is very irritating to listeners.

Miss Elsie Johnson, 1408 Delaware avenue, opened her home Thursday to members of the Willing Workers class, Second U. P. church. Mrs. Chester Minick, retiring president, had charge of the meeting and introduced the new officers, Mrs. George Craven, president, and Mrs. J. Herbert Cox, secretary.

Afterwards, the members all joined in binding a quilt for the Valencia Children's Home. The quilt top was a gift of the class' former teacher, Mrs. Charles Book.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Miss Dorothy Pregenzer and Mrs. Wallace McKee.

CECELIA TURNER HONORED THURSDAY

Cecelia Turner was the honored guest last evening when her aunt, Mrs. C. F. Morrow, of Wampum, entertained at a farewell, members of the D. D. D. club of which Miss Turner is a member. Cecelia plans to leave next week for advanced nurses training at the Philadelphia General hospital, for six months. She is a student nurse at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Cards provided the pastime, attractive prizes going to Evelyn Miller, Mrs. Robert Carpenter, and Naomi Kennedy. Special guests were Jerry Flick and Joan Thompson. Following, the guests were invited to the dining room where they enjoyed a delicious Easter lunch.

Cecelia was the recipient of many lovely personal gifts from the group. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Turner.

Seamstress Club

Seamstress club members, composed of a group of women interested in the making of dresses for themselves, under the direction of Mrs. John Smetana and Mrs. Michael Klatka, gathered for a surprise birthday party event honoring Miss Stella Smetana. The event took place at her mother's home on the Butler road on a recent date, with John Smetana and daughter Darlene Ann as special guests.

In serving a birthday menu, the hostess was aided by Miss Mary Smetana, sister of the honoree and Miss Ann Petro.

At a suitable hour, Stella was presented with a beautiful gift in behalf of the club, and she received a special "big sister" remembrance, in addition, the presentation of Margaret Zedick.

On a previous date, a similar party was given by Mrs. Petro in honor of her daughter Ann Petro, it marking her birthday anniversary. She too, received many lovely gifts.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER AT BAPTIST CHURCH

At the First Baptist church, Thursday evening, the Men's Bible class enjoyed a fellowship dinner in the dining hall. Over sixty men attended.

Dr. C. H. Heaton, the pastor and class teacher, gave the invocation, and all partook of a splendid dinner.

After the dinner, there was a program.

For about twenty minutes Ben Jenkins led all the men in the singing of the class songs, also introduced a number of new gospel songs, in which all joined most heartily.

Joe Jenkins, Andy Sentgeorge and Ed. Jenkins gave two selections, "Living in the Glory" and "He Lives, He Lives," Ed. Jenkins gave a piano solo, "When I See My Savior Hang on Calvary," then two solos were sung by Ben Jenkins, "Christ Jesus My Savior" and "I Know 'Tis Jesus." All these numbers were well received. Ed. Donley sang two bass solos, "Asleep in the Deep" and "O'er the Billowy Sea," in splendid style, which delighted the audience. He was accompanied by Ed. Jenkins.

Jimmy White gave several stirring selections on his banjo, one being his radio winning selection; Will Jones accompanied on the piano.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand, class president, called for a standing vote of thanks to the artists for their splendid program, which was heartily given.

Tom Athrell had charge of the program.

J. Dan Reebel called upon Dr. C. H. Heaton and R. L. Hildebrand to captain opposing teams for a true and false quiz. The teams were Charles T. Metzler, Ralph Snyder, W. E. Harris, Roy Martin and Milford Wright; W. H. Luikart, Robert Strickler, Paul Fombelle, Arthur J. Rees and Tad Kirker. The contest dwindled down to Dr. Heaton and R. L. Hildebrand, Dr. Heaton finally winning the shaving cream. In answer to the question, "How long did Queen Victoria reign," Paul Fombelle "brought down the house" with the answer, "She rained forty days and forty nights."

The committee who prepared and served the dinner were J. F. Mitchell, Elmer Brown, Bruce Love, L. W. Houk, Harry Irvin and Norbert Ubrey.

Dr. Heaton pronounced the benediction.

...perman In Tokyo ...ars Decision Of Japanese Court

... SPENT SEVERAL MONTHS IN PRISON

Editor's Note: Mrs. Marjorie ...ng, of Houston, Texas, wife of ...mes R. Young, manager of International News Service Tokyo Bureau, sent the following dispatch today on the suspended sentence given her husband on a charge of violating the Japanese army criminal code in connection with articles written following an extended tour of China.)

By MARJORIE YOUNG
Special Cable to International News Service

TOKYO, March 22.—James R. Young, International News Service far eastern manager, received a sentence of six months' imprisonment—suspended for a period of three years—from Judge Sanehira Hotta of the Tokyo local court today.

Mr. Young, who was charged with violating Article 99 of the Japanese army criminal code in dispatches written following a tour of China, was given seven days in which to appeal the sentence if he so desires. In addition, he will bear the full costs of the court proceedings.

In reviewing the case, Judge Hotta said that Mr. Young was a man of considerable academic education with more than ten years' experience in Japan and hence must assume responsibility for violation of the army penal code, even though he pleaded ignorance of its provisions.

The judge added that Mr. Young should have known the code's provisions against "fabricating rumors" concerning the Japanese army, an offense which he stated was particularly serious in the present wartime conditions.

Although Mr. Young had offended against this code, the judge continued, extenuating circumstances were found in the fact that he was an American, a man of "outspoken frankness," and his work was that of a foreign correspondent whose duty was to report the news.

Therefore, the judge declared, he had decided to impose a sentence of six months' imprisonment with a three years' stay of execution.

Directly addressing Mr. Young through a court interpreter, Judge Hotta cautioned him against repeating the offense in the future.

This morning's court session was open to the public for the first time since the trial began. I was present along with a representative of the Japanese foreign office and William Turner, second secretary of the American embassy.

Representatives of the Japanese press also attended as well as lawyers and a few other Japanese.

My husband appeared in excellent health despite 62 days of detention, half of which were spent in the police jail.

Lawrence-Others Face Trial Monday

State Democratic Chieftain And Others Face Conspiracy Charges

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 22.—Trial Monday was ahead today for Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence and seven other state and local Dauphin county party leaders, charged with conspiracy and extortion.

Former Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore, Democratic state committee secretary and Carl K. Deen, also of the state committee were indicted with Lawrence for allegedly conspiring to assess state employes for political contributions.

Five Dauphin county committeemen facing similar charges are Robert M. Fager, chairman; William B. Freeland, Frank R. Hean, Wendell Mergenthaler, and Clyde Smith.

Judge Hughes was assigned to preside at the various Dauphin county trials growing out of the graft charges investigated following the 1938 primary campaign.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ACCIDENTS

A few weeks ago we discussed accidents and how they are often a warning that a child has bad eyes, or bad hearing, or that he is not well mentally. This inspired a mother to write me about a series of accidents that befell her child. She was a wise mother and decided that it just wasn't by chance that these things were happening, so she and her doctor watched the child and found that the little fellow played too hard; he tired himself out and it was when he was in this fatigued condition that his accidents occurred.

Frankly, I forgot to mention this before, but it is very very true. We have noticed it with the Quintuplets. I've never seen little girls so full of animal spirits. And we have found that when they play too hard, or too long, that is the time some of them fall and hurt themselves, or they quarrel with one another. So the nurses watch their play carefully and the moment one sees any signs of any of them getting over fatigued, then the play ends and a rest period starts immediately. You would be surprised how this has cut down the number of bruised knees and elbows.

I remember a few years ago there was a public investigation into the hours truck drivers work. It was discovered that some of them worked as long as eighteen or twenty hours at a stretch. And it was noted that most of the accidents they had occurred towards the end of such long, gruelling drives.

If your child has a lot of accidents, yet his eyes and ears and mental health are all good, it might be wise to check on his diet. Perhaps his appetite is bad and when this happens, then his whole system gets run down and makes him an easy prey to fatigue. When a person is run down physically, then his body won't co-ordinate with his mind the way it should. His falls and stumbles may be a sign of this so don't ignore the danger signals when they come. If you do, he may have a serious accident, or a serious illness.

One hospital made a survey of all accident cases that came in over a period of several months. They discovered some interesting facts. One was that most accidents occur in the late morning or late afternoon—just when we have gone longest without food or rest.

The answer to this is simple—don't let your child get too tired; see that he has rest periods after long periods of play. It is a good idea to give him a glass of milk or fruit juice between meals for this picks up his strength again. The Quintuplets get milk between meals every day of their lives.

When your child does have an accident and cuts himself, don't neglect it. Wash the cut with a mild soap in warm water, paint it with iodine and cover it with a loose bandage. If the trouble is a bruise, treat it with cold compresses; no dressing is needed. If the cut is severe at all, or if the trouble is a sprain, or a bruise, call your doctor.

Watch your child's wounds; if they are slow in healing, then his bodily resistance is below par. Find out why right away.

Epworth Church Easter Programs

Dramatization And Musical Program Features Epworth Methodist Services

Special Easter services, including a beautiful and original dramatization of "In the Garden" by Miss Helen McCollum and a group of girls from the senior department at 9:45 a.m., have been arranged at the Epworth Methodist church, East Washington street and Butler avenue, for Sunday. The lesson subject is "Triumph Over Death".

At the 11 o'clock morning worship service, an inspiring program of music, directed by Mrs. Anna Pyle and the Epworth choir of thirty voices, will be presented as follows:

Organ Prelude, "Easter Day"—Clement Loret.

Opening Hymn—"Crown Him with Many Crowns".

Apostles Creed.

Prayer followed by Lord's Prayer.

Anthem, "All in the April Evening"—Hugh Robertson.

Symphonic scripture reading, entitled "Death's Destruction", combining Paul's great classic on The Resurrection with Handel's "Largo," especially arranged for this service by Mrs. Anna Pyle—organist, and Rev. W. A. Thornton, reader.

Offertory Anthem, "Awake Thou That Sleepest"—F. C. Maker.

Sermon, "'Tis Immortality"—Rev. W. A. Thornton.

Closing Hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today"—C. Wesley.

Postlude, "Easter Alleluia"—Otto Walder.

Evening service, 7:30.

Organ Prelude, "Bells Through the Trees"—Edmundson.

Praise period featuring great Easter hymns.

Chorus, "Fling Wide the Gates"—Stainer.

Solo—Selected—Mrs. A. H. Mellor.

Male Quartet, "The Lord is Risen Indeed"—C. Forteyn Manney.

Sermon, "The Garden, the Cross and the Tomb"—Pastor.

Postlude—"Hallelujah Chorus."

Mt. Jackson Notes

I. M. H. SOCIETY MEET

The Iva M. Hamill Missionary society met Thursday, at the home of Mrs. W. O. Taylor, with a large number in attendance. A delicious chicken dinner was served at noon by the committee. After which the program was presented in charge of Grace Craig.

Officers were then elected for the ensuing year: president, Jean Martin; first vice president, Mrs. Guy Raney; second vice president, Mrs. S. G. McCullough, corresponding secretary, Harriet Lusk; recording secretary, Agnes Davison; treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Caskey; assistant treasurer, Margaret Thompson. Thankoffering secretary, Mrs. Eli Wiggins. Mission Band, Grace Craig; efficiency secretary, Ruth Bradley; pianist, Wilda Ferree.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Primary Sunday School class of the United Presbyterian church, were pleasantly entertained, Saturday afternoon, from 2:30 to 4:30 by their teacher, Miss Almra Pitts. The entertainment of the afternoon consisted of an "egg hunting contest" and other games. At an appropriate hour a tasty lunch was served by the hostess, at a table nicely decorated in keeping of the Easter seaster, places being arranged for eighteen. Aides assisting in serving, were Agnes Davison, Bertha Mars, Naomi Searer, Hazel Mack and Hazel Butler.

LADIES AUXILIARY

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Earl J. Watt Post, American Legion, Unit No. 638 will hold their meeting Monday evening, March 25, in the Legion Home. Social committee for the evening consists of Hazel Butler, Erma Raub, and Lena Kilgore.

SOCIAL GATHERING

Members of the Young Peoples Christian Union of the United Presbyterian church, gathered in the church, Wednesday evening, where a social time was enjoyed. A brief business session was held and officers elected for the year: president, John D. McFate; vice president, Donald Martin; secretary, Louise Thompson; treasurer, Billy Pitts; pianists, Louise Butler, Mary Louise Pitts and Pauline Miller. Games and contests were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening, and later, a delicious lunch was served by the committee.

Tickets On Sale For Dinner Event

Big Demand Is Seen For Places At Pioneer Week Banquet March 30

EARLY PURCHASE OF TICKETS ADVISED

Tickets for the Pioneer Dinner to be held in the Cathedral Saturday night, March 30, are now in the hands of a number of distributors and sales are mounting daily. The only worry the general committee has is that the demand for the tickets will far exceed the supply.

B. N. Hanlon, in charge of ticket sales stated today that tickets were on sale in the various industries, through the civic clubs, at the Greater New Castle Association headquarters in The Castleton, the Merchants Association and the New Castle Motor Club.

The dinner will probably rank as the most unusual of its kind not alone in New Castle but in the state. While it is a testimonial it does not single out any one industrial leader but pays tribute to the head of every one of the 107 industries in the city and its environs.

For the principal speaker the committee believed that it was such a dinner as would attract the attention of Governor Arthur H. James due to his Job Mobilization program and his program for the restoration of industry in the state.

Governor James accepted the invitation immediately and will be the principal speaker that evening. With him will be one of his cabinet members, Roger W. Rowland, Secretary of Property and Supplies, who will be present in a dual capacity, first as an industrial leader of New Castle and secondly as a cabinet officer.

Tickets will be sold until about two days before the dinner when it will be necessary to shut off sales. It is hoped that those who are interested will get their tickets early for once the sale is shut off, it is definitely off.

COLONY SHIPS GOLD
(International News Service)

PARIS.—Three kilograms of gold from the coast of Dahomey has just arrived in Paris by air. This is the first package of alluvial gold from this French West-Africa colony sent to the Bank of France but it is estimated that total deposits in this colony will pan out at more than 1,000 kilograms. Quantities ranging from fifteen to twenty kilograms will be airmailed to Paris every month.

OVER 200 GUESTS WATCH Y. M. C. A. DEMONSTRATIONS

'Open House' Celebration Puts Spotlight On 75 Boys Last Night

Over 200 mothers and fathers last night proudly watched some 75 sons —all "Y" members—go through their day-by-day athletic routines with clock-like precision at one of the periodical "open house" celebrations of the Y. M. C. A.

Between 7 and 9 that throng saw a variety of things—Bible study groups in session, swimming and gymnastic exhibitions and side attractions which added to the entertainment.

"It was the regular "Y" program in night operation," commented Henry T. MacNicholas, assistant general secretary. Most of the demonstrations were directed by Wm. Winter, physical director, and John D. Thompson, boys' work director.

First registrations for the 1940 Camp Fred L. Rentz season which opens July 8 were taken last night. Host of inquiries were received.

The parental throng was reminded of the annual "Y" indoor circus on April 11 and 12.

Joining in last night's program were groups of Hi-Y and Gra-Y members from most of the district clubs.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans and his assistant Mr. MacNicholas, greeted guests throughout the evening.

Rescue Crews Continue Work At Mine In Ohio

(International News Service)

NEFFS, O., March 22.—The bodies of seven of eight miners recovered during the night were identified today as weary rescue crews pushed through tons of fallen rock and slate to reach 32 others still entombed in the Willow Grove mine, where they were trapped by a blast last Saturday. Thirty-nine bodies have been recovered.

Latest bodies identified were those of Lawrence Hrabak, 46, Maynard; Mike Pokerino, 29, Bannock; Mike August, Jr., 40, Lafferty; Russell Fedeon, 37, Neffs; Mark Passmore, 52, Glencoe; Albert Eastman, 36, Neffs; John Gargola, 37, Stewartsville. One remained unidentified.

As crews continued their work, a congressional sub-committee was to make a formal inquiry into the blast that ripped through a shaft in the mine bringing death to 72 men.

Classes For Adults In Literacy And Naturalization Here

Classes for adults in literacy and naturalization are conducted in the Aiken school building on Pearson street five evenings a week (Monday through Friday) from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. and on Wednesday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

People attending these classes are taught to read, write and speak English, and are assisted in their preparation for the naturalization examinations.

THEORETICAL PAY INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA.—Frank Gerson, Philadelphia's unpaid fireman, now receives 50 cents more per day, but only in theory. As a result of routine action by the Civil Service Commission, Frank's salary was upped from $5 to $5.50, although he has not received any pay since September, 1938. At that time he became embroiled with the body over his age and his check has been held up.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Medical philately moves ahead next month.

Pioneers in medicine will be on two U. S. stamps.

Such honor is at last to be paid distinguished American medical men.

A red 2-cent stamp will be released at Jefferson, Ga., April 8.

It will carry the likeness of Dr. Crawford W. Long of Jefferson.

Dr. Long first used ether as an anesthetic in surgical operations.

April 17, at Washington, D. C., a blue 5-cent stamp will appear.

It will honor the memory of Major Walter Reed, Army Medical Corps.

Dr. Reed and associates discovered yellow fever carriers.

They banished this dread disease permanently from North America.

Many other countries have honored medical men on their stamps.

Drs. Long and Reed are worthy of this distinction.

Dr. Pettingill To Conduct Bible Conference Here

Bible Conference Will Open At Primitive Methodist Church Sunday

Dr. W. L. PETTINGILL

The City Rescue Mission has planned a five-day Bible conference with Rev. Dr. W. L. Pettingill, who for nearly fifty years has been teaching the Bible. Skilled in interpreting the holy text, his vast knowledge was gained through years of intense study. He is one of the remaining survivors of the consultant editors of the Scofield Reference Bible. Not only was Dr. Pettingill, a co-founder of the Phiadelphia School of the Bible, but he served as dean of that institution from 1914 to 1928. Dr. Pettingill is founder of the magazine, "Serving and Waiting," and he edited it for nearly two decades. Dr. Pettingill has written many books, tracts and pamphlets on the Bible, devoted to the books of Daniel, Matthew and Romans.

The Bible conference will open Sunday afternoon at 3 at the Primitive Methodist church through the invitation of Rev. J. Albert Tinker. A great musical program has been arranged by Superintendent Archie Gibson of the Mission. Miss Helen Stricklin will be pianist. The meetings will continue until March 30, at the City Mission, with the exception of Wednesday night. The meeting on Wednesday night will be held at the Third U. P. church.

"Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first-fruits of them that are asleep."—I Cor. 15:20.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform lesson on the above topic for March 24 is Matthew 27:57-28:15, the Golden Text being I Corinthians 15:20 "Now hath Christ been raised from the dead the first-fruits of them that are asleep.)

Even after Jesus was crucified and put in the tomb, the high priests and Pharisees were not content. They must have known in their hearts that it was no ordinary man whom they had crucified. They came together before Pilate and asked him to see that they had an adequate guard set about Jesus' tomb, as "we remember the deceiver said, while He was yet alive; After three days I will rise again." Pilate evidently had but little patience with them for he answered them shortly, "Ye have a watch; go your way, make it as sure as ye can."

So the tomb was sealed and the watch was set, but early Sunday morning, after the Jewish Sabbath the two Marys came to the tomb with spices to anoint the body. They found that a great earthquake had opened the tomb, causing the guards to lie as dead men, and the Son of Man had risen, even as He had said. An angel, whose "countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow," sat upon the stone that formed the tomb's door, and said to the startled women "Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead; and behold, He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him; lo I have told you."

Run With Tidings

So the woman ran from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, to tell the disciples the joyful tidings. And as they went, Jesus met them, saying, "All hail." And the happy women came and held Him by the feet and worshipped Him.

The soldiers on watch at the tomb, after they were recovered somewhat from their swoon into which the earthquake had thrown them, ran to the high priests and told them all that had happened. They must have been alarmed, and so they hushed the soldiers up by giving them large sums of money, and told them to say to anyone who inquired about the matter, "His disciples came by night, and stole Him away while we slept." Thus telling the men to lie to possibly save their own skins. If this affair comes to the governor's ears, they told the soldiers, we will persuade him it is all right and protect you.

The soldiers took the money and did as they were told. They must have been glad to get out of the matter so easily.

It would be interesting to know what became of the high priests, scribes and Pharisees. What were their individual lives, after this event? Were they happy? Did they prosper, or were one and all haunted by this Man whom they had so cruelly and vengefully killed and by the picture of Him standing so quietly before his judges and under the insults and blows of the crowd. Don't you suppose they had many fearful moments, especially after they were told by the soldiers of His resurrection?

Easter is always a joyous time. Even when it is an early Easter like the one this year, there is a promise of warmth in the air, with new life springing up in place of the old. On top of this is the assurance that our Lord is not dead. He is risen. No matter what discouragements the world is meeting at this time, we must have faith that out of all this tragedy and grief too, the Lord will rise and make all the earth once more rejoice.

350,000 FAMILIES SHARE A BIRTHDAY

TODAY, as you read this advertisement, a fine old gentleman and his wife are basking in the sunshine of a little California town. They can afford to take things easy, for theirs is the security of Provident Mutual monthly income checks. They are two of the nearly 40,000 policy owners who, in the last 75 years, have received a total of 132 millions of dollars in their declining years from Provident Mutual Endowment policies.

Today in another city a young widow and her children face life bravely and fearlessly because punctually on the first of every month they receive a Provident Mutual income check, guaranteed as long as the mother lives. From the fulness of her heart she writes: "I don't know what I would do without it." She is only one of the 37,000 individuals to whom the Provident has paid 190 millions of dollars in death claims since its organization in 1865.

Today in an Eastern university a boy is poring over a chemistry text-book. He had not expected to go to college, for his Dad had been wiped out by the depression. But fortunately there were still the cash values of Dad's Provident policies—and a life-long ambition will become a reality for him as well as for many of the thousands to whom the Provident has paid 182 millions of dollars in cash values, annuities, and other values, not including dividends.

These stories, repeated many times over with countless variations, are the stories of the approximately 150,000 families who have already benefited from Provident Mutual service, and typify the aspirations of the nearly 200,000 families who today are banded together as owners of the Company on its 75th birthday. To them we extend our birthday greetings, and on this, our diamond anniversary, we take pride not so much in our millions of assets, nor in our nearly one billion of insurance in force, as in the homes which have been enriched through the magic miracle of life insurance.

A leading role in this every-day drama of living is played by the Provident Mutual agent, who through times of adversity as well as prosperity has helped to safeguard the future of his clients. The high esteem of the people he has protected is a tribute to his friendly service.

We invite you to send for a copy of Provident Mutual's 1939 Annual Report, including the balance sheet of assets and liabilities; the summary of income and disbursements; and the list of securities held by the Company for the benefit of its policy owners and beneficiaries.

AROUND CITY HALL

It required only 15 bullets to end the lives of 15 stray dogs recently, according to the city dog-catcher. The bodies of the dead dogs were burned in the city incinerator. Scarcely a day passes that the dog-catcher doesn't catch eight or nine dogs. He said there were more dogs "on the loose" here this winter than in any winter in his memory. The dog-catcher is employed by the city. He is paid a salary. However, whenever he kills a dog he clips their ears, sends them to the state bureau at Harrisburg and receives pay for the ears. This money is turned over to the city and according to city officials, the city is not out one penny for his services.

It is doubtful if there is a more experienced dog-catcher in the country. He served an apprenticeship under his father, now dead. During that time he learned all the canine tricks of escaping a net or noose. Some months ago he took on an apprentice. However, the small colored lad who became quite adept at helping his employer had to attend school and has been missing from the squad. The dog-catcher reports that some dogs apparently sense he is a dog-catcher and, as soon as they see him, scamper either for home or a hide-away. And then again there are some dogs which run to him to be petted. If he catches a licensed dog, the owner is notified but in order to get a dog back the owner must obey certain requirements. The dog-catcher will not destroy any valuable dog without first making every effort to find the owner or a good home.

City hall offices were closed today because of Good Friday....Next council meeting will be held Monday ....School tax statements will be written and sent out early in April so taxpayers may expect another post-card shower from Treasurer C. C. McKibben....Inclement weather of March affected city ranks the same as others. Policemen especially were affected, illness being caused by tramping through snow, slush, sleet and rain.

GERMANS REPORT TOTAL TONNAGE OF SUNKEN VESSELS

(International News Service)

BERLIN, March 22.—No less than 32,694 tons of enemy and neutral merchant shipping have been sunk during the past three days, the German high command asserted in a war communique today.

"There were no particular events on the western front," the war bulletin said.

"Despite adverse weather the German air force reconnoitered the northern part of the North Sea.

"Enemy and neutral merchantmen aggregating 32,694 tons have been sunk during the past three days."

Desperate Food Shortage Develops In China, Report

President Roosevelt Asks Red Cross For Gift Of Cracked Wheat

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Roosevelt today transmitted to the Red Cross an urgent appeal for a gift of cracked wheat to meet a "desperate food shortage" in China.

At the president's direction, White House Secretary Stephen T. Early requested Red Cross Chairman Norman Davis to give the appeal immediate consideration.

The president was inspired to seek further American aid for China by receipt of a message from the Advisory Committee for Civilian Relief in China which was transmitted by Consul General Gauss in Shanghai.

"During early months of the China conflict cash contributions from America for civilian relief were generously supplemented by a grant of wheat," asserted the message.

"Wheat supply is now exhausted. Scarcity of rice and all other grains with the soaring prices are defeating relief efforts. With unfavorable exchange and high freight rates purchase of grain in foreign markets is beyond the resources of relief committees here. We respectfully request your aid in obtaining gift and shipment of cracked wheat for relief in China. This would assist in meeting desperate food shortage in China where multitudes of poor are suffering from hunger and would be an effective expression of American goodwill."

Hail 75th Year Of Provident Mutual

The 75th anniversary of the founding of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co. was celebrated by members of the local Howard Johnson agency in The Castleton yesterday.

The group lunched and then heard a 20-minute address by M. Albert Linton, Provident president, speaking over a nation-wide telephone hookup from Philadelphia. Linton was introduced by "Ted" Widing, Philadelphia, leading company producer for the past two years.

A "round table" discussion of local office work followed the broadcast. The Johnson agency is 15 years old.

In addition to the office force consisting of Claude Crill, Gertrude Graham, and Edward Porada, the following agents were present: Sam Lewis, E. J. Stewart, W. Boyd Barrett, E. T. Williams, Otis P. Holt, D. C. Clarke, and General Agent Howard Johnson.

Find Clothes Without Labels

State Motor police teletype today carried a message to authorities throughout Pennsylvania stating three men had been arrested last night by police on the Boston Post road, Conn. In the auto in which they were riding was found men's clothing from which the labels had been reportedly removed. One of the men allegedly offered the arresting officer a $100.00 bribe.

Chief of Police Marion J. Young said the trio no doubt would be quizzed concerning clothing robberies throughout several states.

Babson Says Waste Of Natural Resources In U. S. Must Be Curbed

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1940, Publishers Financial Bureau)

BABSON PARK, Fa., March 22.—Future historians may well discuss the conflict now raging between Homes and Automobiles. This conflict is changing the manners, modes and morals of America. Whether these vast social and economic trends will eventually turn out for the better or the worse, only the historians will be able to say. But without waiting for the judgment of Father Time, we can safely predict that he will point to this generation as the wastrels of some of America's most precious resources,—particularly oil.

BABSON

Few of us comprehend the vast changes the auto has brought in our social, economic and spiritual life. It has been an evolution that has encompassed hundreds of industries, thousands of communities, millions of people. From oat-eating horses to gasoline-using machines is a change so startling, so widespread, so far-reaching, that we have just begun to realize it ourselves. One of America's most vital problems is the gap between farm product prices on the farm and factory product prices on the retail counter. But I fear only a spiritual revival will again bring our people to buy milk for the baby rather than gas for the car.

Farmers' Dilemma

Thirty years ago, there were 25,000,000 horses and mules in the United States. Every one had to be fed, stabled, and harnessed. Each year they ate billions of bushels of feed. Today, there are only 15,000,000 draught animals. In 1910, the small farmer raised his own feed. But the 1940 farmer can not raise gasoline for his tractor, auto, or truck. So he has to market a "cash" crop to buy gasoline. Production of farm products has increased, consumption decreased. Naturally, farm produce prices have fallen far behind factory goods prices.

Three decades ago, the average working man had a savings account. If he was not putting the cash into the bank he was buying a home. The country's savings backlog was growing, the number of home owners were increasing. Few people owned their own carriage horses. The cost of feeding and stabling was too high. Furthermore, you could not purchase a good horse on "ten easy payments." Today there are 30,000,000 automobiles in the country. Families with scarcely enough income to feed the children are buying big new cars "on time." I often see run-down, ramshackle homes with a spanking new car beside them.

Robbing Peter To Pay Paul

The loss in wealth is, of course, enormous! After ten years, an automobile becomes almost worthless, while the newness has scarcely worn off a home and the savings account is still intact. Families that could afford either to own savings accounts or to build a home are "investing" their savings in an automobile instead. Other families, who can neither save nor build, are robbing Peter to pay Paul by buying an automobile. They are beating their grocery, doctor and clothing bills to buy gasoline, tires, and oil. The automobile has changed America from a stable nation of home owners to a travel-crazy nation of nomads.

The keystone of this Mobile Age is cheap gasoline and easy credit. Too many people who buy cars "on time" should never own automobiles. They could not buy them if the present instalment financing terms were tightened up. A lot fewer cars would roll off the assembly lines, but home builders, home furnishers, grocers, doctors and farmers would fare better. Over 60 per cent of all automobiles are purchased "on time." Next week's salary is spent long before it is earned. This is an unhealthy condition.

Cheap Gasoline An Evil

Low-priced gasoline is also unhealthy. British, French, and German high prices for gasoline have hobbled the motor industry in those nations but this has helped the building of homes. We are fortunate to have vast supplies of crude oil. But is that any reason why this generation should exploit them, waste them, use them uneconomically? It took millions of years to create them. Should these be destroyed by allowing unrestricted use of gasoline, at even less than production costs, for the superficial fun of this generation?

New oil fields are discovered every year. In each instance millions of barrels are forever wasted because of the race to make private profits. Just as one generation exterminated the buffalo, so we are exterminating our crude oil reserves. This is one industry that surely needs conservation. It would be a good thing for the nation if gasoline prices were upped sharply. Higher prices may cause millions to come to their senses and buy homes instead of "gas." They should prevent wasteful competition between truck and railroad. They will prevent the exhaustion of our precious oil reserves.

One Suggested Cure

I believe that all gasoline should contain a portion of alcohol made from corn, although the experts tell me that I am wrong. It takes only a few months to replace corn, but it takes eons to replace gasoline. Besides, the price maladjustment between farm produce and factory goods at retail must be corrected before America can ever see real prosperity again. Farm products, treated chemically, must be used in industry to take the place of metal and oil in order (1) to conserve natural resources and (2) to use up farm surpluses. If these things are done, we will be taking an important step to correct the evils and protect the blessings which the automobile has brought us!

LAUNCH PROBE OF PARTIAL SINKING OF CARGO VESSEL

Possibility Of Sabotage Is Being Investigated By G-Men And Other Officials

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, March 22.—Half a dozen inquiries were underway today into the mysterious partial sinking of the 27,000-ton cargo liner Panamanian at its pier in Baltimore harbor—including investigations by G-men and the Federal Bureau of Steamboat Inspection and Navigation.

The ship, reputedly the largest cargo carrier in service, was mysteriously flooded early yesterday. Freight line officials said there was possibility of sabotage, as the ship was loading a cargo for England, but added that carelessness in refueling might have caused the vessel to list and ship water.

The Panamanian, owned by Arnold Bernstein, who was imprisoned for two years by the German Nazi government at the height of a sensational career as a shipping magnate, was the troopship Mongolia during the World war. It sank a German U-boat with the first American shot fired during that war.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Passage of the amended Hatch bill extending restrictions against political activities to state employes who are paid from federal funds, would probably not affect the course of Pennsylvania's primary election, but would have an influence on the general election in the fall. The amended bill has already passed the United States Senate and is now before the House for action. It was estimated that the bill would cover approximately 15,000 salaried state employes in Pennsylvania and practically all of the 20,000 to 30,000 per diem employes.

The amended Hatch bill, if enacted into law, would not only remove thousands of state employes from the realm of active politics but would also tend to strentghen the state's anti-Macing act and the civil service laws. One provision in the amended Hatch bill as passed by the Senate bars the "coercion or assessment of state employes for political purposes." The bill would strengthen the state's civil service laws by bolstering the merit system under which the 10,700 employes of the department of public assistance and the division of employment service and unemployment compensation now work under.

Pennsylvania's new milion dollar liquor board building has been officially designated the northwest office building. Which reminds capitol observers that the education building is officially known as South Office Building Number 2.

The possibility of cave legislation at the forthcoming special legislative session loomed larger as anthracite communities inaugurated a drive for "slushing" projects as a means of preventing major catastrophies such as occurred in Shenandoah several weeks ago. State Senator Edward J. Coleman of Lackawanna County was one of the legislators known to be pushing for remedial legislation. Governor James has given no indication as to whether he'll incorporate such matters in his call.

Should Walter A. Jones, chairman of the turnpike commission, be forced to resign (under the proposed extension of the Hatch law) in order to run for the U. S. Senate, it was understood that Thomas J. Evans, a member of the commission and a Republican, would succeed him. Evans is a mining engineer and former sheriff of Schuylkill County.

U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey's campaign for re-election was given a severe jolt when two Democratic county chairmen—from Columbia and Northumberland—denied that they would support Guffey. Fred E. Lord, of Berwick, said he would take no part in the primary, while Frank B. Dressler, of Shamokin, stated he was "strongly advocating" the nomination of Walter Jones.

Motor Club Gets Message To Local Men Touring In Texas, In Emergency

Every now and then the service of the American Automobile Association is dramatized by some incident which gives the public some idea of what the organization means to motorists. The latest piece of service came through the New Castle Motor club, and through the club and the A. A. A. two men who were somewhere in Texas in an automobile, were located.

The facts are these. About midnight of Monday, March 18, Elmer Dickey, 23, of Slippery Rock was badly injured in a crash somewhere near Slippery Rock. He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital in serious condition and it was thought best to send for his father, R. M. Dickey.

Mr. Dickey, with another son, Charles, was somewhere in Texas, on a trailer trip. Texas is a large state and reaching out and picking up one automobile and trailer is a job.

At noon of March 19 B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club, wired the El Paso Automobile Association in El Paso, Texas, asking the club to comb the state for Pennsylvania license 4-U-856 and tell the men of the accident to Elmer Dickey. It was supposed the men were somewhere between El Paso and Laredo, a long distance.

El Paso motor officials went to work immediately, used the radio, the police stations and their own clubs in the state. Less than 12 hours later Charles Dickey wired the New Castle Motor club from El Paso telling them he had received the message and asking particulars.

This is merely one of the many services rendered by the New Castle Motor club and the A. A. A. but it illustrates how far a membership goes.

Sunday Services At Trinity Church

Impressive Easter Services To Be Presented At Trinity Church Sunday

Quiet, simple, beautiful, the first service on Easter day will be said at 7:30 a. m. in Trinity church as on every Sunday morning throughout the year. It is the Holy Communion, and for Easter the special scriptures will be read, the proper preface used, together with the other special parts of the service in the Book of Common Prayer appointed for the Feast of the Resurrection. The church will be decorated with more flowers than usual and the larger altar will be used. This service will be over at 8:15 a. m.

Following, at 9:30 a. m., all departments of the church school, including the kindergarten and primary section, will assemble in the Guild room, before going upstairs for their annual festival service and presentation of their Lenten offering. The service is the Holy Communion with address by the Rev. Philip C. Pearson. The music will be led by the junior choir in charge of Miss Isabel T. Johnson.

At 11 a. m. the principal service of the day, the Holy Communion and sermon by the rector, will be held. At this time, the senior choir, Miss Isabel T. Johnson at the organ, will present the following program of Easter festival music:

Organ prelude, "Resurrection Morn"—Johnston.

"Seven Last Words" Sunday Evening At First U. P. Church

Cantata At 7:30 O'clock; Junior Choir To Sing At Morning Service

"The Seven Last Words of Christ", sacred cantata by Theodore Dubois, will be presented in the First U. P. church, Clenmore and Albert streets, on Easter Sunday evening at 7:30, by the chorus choir of the church. A. Alfred Taylor, church organist and director, will be in charge of this service.

Mr. Taylor is gratified due to the fact that he has been able to secure Samuel Lewis, tenor, and Alan B. Davis, baritone, for solo work. Mrs. Muryl Boyd, soprano, will also take solo parts in the cantata.

The program is as follows:

Introduction, "O all ye who travel upon the highway, hearken to me"—Mrs. Boyd.

First Word, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do"—Mr. Lewis, Mr. Davis and the chorus.

Second Word, "Verily, thou shalt be in Paradise today with me"—Mr. Lewis, Mr. Davis and the chorus.

Third Word, "See, O woman, here behold thy Son beloved"—Mrs. Boyd, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Davis and the chorus.

Fourth Word, "God, my Father, why hast Thou forsaken me?"—Mr. Davis.

Fifth Word, "I am athirst"—The chorus, Mr. Lewis and Mr. Davis.

Sixth Word, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my soul"—Mr. Lewis and the chorus.

Seventh Word, "It is finished"—Mrs. Boyd, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Davis and the chorus.

Prayer, "Christ, we do all adore thee"—The chorus.

Morning Service

At the 11 o'clock morning service the sacrament of communion will be administered, with Dr. S. E. Irvine, minister, giving a sacramental address.

Highlighting the service with song, the junior choir, under the direction of A. Alfred Taylor, organist and choirmaster, will lead the music. Beginning the service with a singing processional, "Onward, Christian Soldiers", they will also sing two special anthems, "Alleluia" by Humphries, and a new Easter song from the pen of Mr. Taylor, "The Easter Bells Are Ringing".

Organ selections will include: "Christus resurrexit" by Ravanello, "Spring Song" by Mendelssohn and "Hosanna" by Wachs.

Moscow Broadcast Attacks Purpose Of Defensive Alliance

(International News Service)

COPENHAGEN, March 22.—A Moscow broadcast launched a violent attack today against "reactionary parties in Sweden" which were accused of aiming at an "anti-Russion defense union" among Sweden, Finland and Norway.

The Russian broadcaster expressed doubt, whether Finland would be drawn into such a combination or would "prefer to obtain favors by living at peace with her great neighbor"—meaning the Soviet union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Talks aimed at establishment of a defensive alliance among Finland, Sweden and Norway were revived by the Finnish government after the Russo-Finnish hostilities ended. Several days ago the Russian government warned Finland against entering such an alliance on grounds it would contravene the terms of the Moscow peace agreement.)

The Moscow broadcaster added that Moscow understood Sweden had long been planning an anti-Russian military policy.

New President For Edinboro Now Forecast

(International News Service)

EDINBORO, Pa., March 22.—Edinboro State Teachers college will have a new president by fall, it was indicated today.

The board of trustees, without mentioning the name of the current officeholder, Dr. Carmon Ross, adopted a resolution calling for the change. No further action, however, was expected to be taken until the present terms of school ends.

One board member said the step was taken as a result of long agitation by Edinboro townspeople, students and several trustees, who charged that Dr. Ross failed to cooperate with them.

No mention has been made of possible successor.

DOZEN SHIPS SUNK OR DAMAGED IN PAST TWO DAYS

British Admiralty Makes Report —Danish Freighter Is Sent Down

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 22.—A dozen British and neutral merchant ships have been sunk or damaged by German bombs or torpedoes during the past two days, the British admiralty acknowledged today.

Latest victim of the German submarine campaign was the 1,650-ton Danish freighter Algier which was torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic yesterday. One woman and four crew members were killed.

An admiralty communique accusing Germany of attacking unarmed ships was issued after Nazi planes visited both the northern and southern ends of the British Isles on reconnoitering expeditions which caused no damage.

(A Reuters (British) dispatch from Copenhagen said it was reported that a German steamer described as the Medderheim was torpedoed last night in the Kattegat off Denmark.

(According to the dispatch a submarine picked up the vessel's first engineer and a coast guard cutter picked up the other 36 crew members.

(Lloyd's registry of shipping does not list a vessel named the Medderheim, but it was believed the torpedoed ship might have been the 4,947-ton vessel Heddernheim, registered at Bremen.)

Combined Choirs Feature Program

East Brook And Neshannock U. P. Choirs To Sing Sunday Evening

Under the leadership of Glenn Patterson and Mrs. Lenza Stewart, the choirs of East Brook and Neshannock United Presbyterian churches will present the following program, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The service will be held in the East Brook church.

"To Life Awake"—Offenbach-Lerman.
"O, Hallowed Cross"—Adam Geibel.
Duet—Selected—Mrs. Harold Mayberry, Miss Dorothy Mayberry.
"He Was Despised"—Alfred Judson.
"Calvary"—Rodney.
"Thou Art the Living Christ"—Ira B. Wilson.
"King All-Glorious"—George M. Vail.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Edward Arthur Carpenter to H. O. L. C., third ward, $50.

Mrs. Anne Patterson to James W. Hilyard, Union township, $1285.82.

William J. Huber to Willard E. Huber, Neshannock township, $1.

Martha E. Forshey to Caroline Buxton, Neshannock township, $1.

H. O. L. C. to Ralph Elwin Coates, fourth ward, $1900.

Orion L. Williams to Mary E. Williams, second ward, $1.

Charged with voting illegally, William H. Liversage of Robinson avenue has been arrested and is held before Alderman L. C. Mantz in bail of $300. A number of other informations have been laid and will be served upon voters. Most of the charges by the county detective seem to arise out of persons moving out of a precinct a short time before election day and then returning to their old precinct to vote.

Drawings for position on the ballot in the case of state officers will be held on March 27, it has been announced by the Bureau of Elections. The probabilities are that a few of the candidates in this district will go to Harrisburg to draw their place. State employes will be used. When the drawing is completed, the bureau will notify the county commissioners and the candidates will be placed upon the ballot in the order their names are drawn.

J. L. French of Perry township was appointed constable of that township on Thursday morning by Judge W. Walter Braham following the presentation of a petition of voters. Michael Huber was elected to the place but never qualified. Qualification merely means to come in to the court house and formally accept the election, which Huber did not do.

Chairs and a table for the new jury room will be purchased within a few days. The room will be remodelled and a balcony put in for placing of cots for jurors.

Combined Choirs To Sing Cantata

Cantata, Arranged By Rev. Shindledecker, To Be Presented At Two Churches

"Christ the Lord", an Easter cantata, arranged by Rev. O. G. Shindledecker, will be presented by the combined choirs of the Wesley and King's Chapel Methodist churches, on Easter Sunday at both of these churches.

Sunday morning, at 11:15, the cantata will be given at the King's Chapel church, and on Sunday evening at 7:30, it will be presented in the Wesley Methodist church, West Washington street.

The choirs are composed of young people from these two churches, who have put a great amount of time and work into the preparation of the cantata.

Flood Waters At Parkers Landing Falling Steadily

(International News Service)

PARKER'S LANDING, Pa., March 22.—Flood waters backed up by an Allegheny River ice gorge was falling steadily today with only the threat of lowered temperatures over the Easter week-end likely to forestall relief for Parker's residents.

Extended cold weather, it was feared, might freeze the channel which rivermen believed had been cut under the gorge near West Monterey. It was this gorge which backed up water and ice into the Parker's business district, flooding first floors and streets and closing the state route to Emlenton.

Peak for the rising waters was five and a half feet above flood stage. Merchants were idle in Parker's Landing and the Wightman Glass Company plant was closed down.

Only WILSON & CO. Makes Certified Smoked Ham

"OH, GOODY!! I KNOW WHAT WE'RE GOING TO HAVE FOR EASTER!"

WILSON'S Certified SMOKED HAM —the original TENDER EXTRA-MILD

American tradition decrees Turkey at Thanksgiving, and HAM at Easter. And, since only the best will do for so special an occasion, the natural choice is Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham—the ham with the richer, smokier, milder flavor, and of surpassing tenderness.

In your home you can highlight this Easter day with Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham—a whole baked Wilson Ham glazed and decorated to suit the occasion. But make no mistake—ask for Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham in the bright orange wrapper. Cook before eating.

WILSON & CO

U. S. Inspected and Passed by the Department of Agriculture

SIMPLIFIED COOKING

The easiest ham in the world to prepare! No parboiling. Have ham at room temperature before starting to cook. Bake according to your favorite recipe 16 minutes to the pound for whole ham (19 minutes to the pound for half ham) in oven temperature of 325° to 150° F. Because of shorter cooking time Wilson's Smoked Ham saves time, saves fuel, and there's much less shrinkage.

Quintuplets Forecast Proves To Be Mistake

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., March 22.—Mrs. Emory Callahan, 22-year-old bride of eight months, philosophically accepted the news today that further X-ray examinations show that she will not bear quintuplets as it had earlier been believed.

In a statement issued over the signature of Publisher John S. Knight of the Miami Herald it was stated that evidence of only one embryo was visible by X-ray.

"Although a preliminary examination indicated that Mrs. Callahan might soon become the mother of quintuplets, X-ray plates taken Thursday at the direction of the Miami Herald reveal that nothing other than a normal birth is to be expected," the Miami Herald announcement stated.

The newspaper had offered to pay the cost of Mrs. Callahan's confinement when "it became evident that unless some directing agency stepped in, well meaning but naturally curious persons might cause great damage to her peace of mind," the statement continued, adding:

"In the interest of medical science and the ultimate welfare of the Callahan family...the cost of Mrs. Callahan's medical and hospital care will continue to be paid by the Herald just as though today's examination had supported the previous belief that she was to be the mother of quintuplets."

News Briefs From City Hall

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today sentenced Abraham Wright, colored, to the county jail, in a charge of vagrancy, it was reported by Police Chief Marion J. Young.

Police authorities today placed two boys in custody of Juvenile Officer J. M. Dunlap. It was alleged that the youths ransacked a Cascade street vacant house.

Police Lieutenant George Kennedy last night took Anthony Letera to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Letera burned an arm while removing a cap from the frozen radiator of his car in East Washington street.

Report was made to city police last night that Mrs. Phillip Abraham, 662 Superior street, sustained an injured wrist when a car in which she was riding and which was driven by her husband, was struck by anothed car in East Washington street.

Edward Warden, Jr., colored, 15, was reported missing last night from home, according to police. The boy's father, Edward, Sr., believes he may have started for New York City.

Police are yet searching for a Buick car, Pennsylvania license 44A49, stolen March 19 from Highland and Euclid avenues. The auto was parked by Mrs. Jessie Hershman. She was visiting friends when the car was stolen.

Hotel Stockholders Elect 12 Directors

Annual Meeting Of Castleton Stockholders Held Thursday Evening

Meetings in the ball room of the Castleton Hotel, Thursday night, stockholders of the New Castle Hotels Corporation named 12 directors, discussed the report of the past year, and seemed generally satisfied that the hotel had been handled in an excellent manner.

Before the business of the meeting was taken up Thomas H. Hartman was named temporary chairman and Ivor V. Davis temporary secretary. Proxies were recorded and the election held.

The same twelve men who have been directors were re-elected unanimously. They are: O. P. Brown, M. J. Donnelly, P. J. Flaherty, A. C. Hoyt, Thomas H. Hartman, Charles H. Johnson, Jr., R. C. Love, J. K. Love, Fred L. Rentz, George T. Weingartner, Frank P. Offutt, and J. Preston Flaherty. A. Fisher, George S. Long and James B. Foster were tellers of the election.

P. J. Flaherty, president of the board of directors reviewed the report of the year which shows an operating profit of $39,495.13 for 1939. With fixed charges, depreciation and income tax taken out, the net profit was $1667.62.

Arnold J. Bischoff, manager of the hotel, made a brief talk on the past year, spoke of some improvements that had been made in the plant and innovations introduced into management.

The Castleton Hotel is a community venture, has 705 stockholders and is known over the country as being one of the best hotels operating today.

PIONEER SPIRIT MARCHING ON IN NEW CASTLE

If the articles under this heading have done nothing else, they have given New Castle citizens a new idea of the wide range of industry in the city, of the multiplicity of articles manufactured here and of the possibilities of further development of industry.

Articles previously appearing have shown a wide diversity of products but the field is not covered yet. In this article some new fields are discussed.

There is an unusual little plant out at East New Castle beyond Cascade Park, the C. Fassinger and Sons Company. The product of the plant is bolts, hub bolts for automobiles, a new hub bolt that is an improvement upon anything of its kind heretofore produced.

Charles Fassinger, the head of the company is a veteran steel products man. From an humble position in the Oliver Iron and Steel Corporation he rose to the vice presidency. In the meantime his family had grown and after a lot of thought he decided to found a business for himself and his three sons, Walter, Charles, Jr., and James.

Disposing of his interests in the Oliver company he started a plant at East New Castle which today is turning out hub bolts by the thousand. The company is only about a year old but the product it turns out is catching hold rapidly.

Mr. Fassinger believes in the future of New Castle. He has given ample proof of that by establishing his business here. In addition he has purchased a farm, the house of which he is remodelling and if initiative, courage and business acumen count for anything this plant will be an important unit in the industrial life of New Castle within a few years.

Another industry which rates among the modern pioneers is the Conn Welding and Machine Company. Back in 1933 Converse Branscome established his plant at 115 North Diamond Way. The year 1933 was not a year conducive to pioneering but to Converse Branscome it was the year he wanted to start and he did.

He believed there was a field for general welding and machine shop work and forgetting the depression and the squawks of the faint hearted he put his money and his time into his business. His idea proved to be a good one and the plant expanded with the months. Today the company is doing repairs on steam shovels, convoys, construction of steel shovel booms, parts for shovels, truck beds, steel batch boxes for repairing concrete and other machine work.

His quarters in north Diamond Way got too small and today a new plant is being constructed on the old Rosena furnace grounds. By April 1st the building will be ready and Con Branscome is ready for further expansion of his business.

Another plant somewhat similar to the Conn plant is the Forney Welding Shop located at 245 West Grant street. It was founded in 1916 by J. H. Forney and in 1937 his son Russell was taken into the business and the company is known as Forney's.

Small jobs or large jobs are all the same to Forney's. They do special maintenance work for much of the local industrial field, besides general welding and machine work. Sixty per cent of their work comes from outside New Castle within a radius of 200 miles. Each year has seen an enlargement of the plant and today it employes 15 men. The company designs and builds special machinery, metallizing or spraying of molten metal, rebuilds machinery and the field for their services is constantly expanding.

The Associated Box Company is a plant that has been in New Castle since 1902. Knock down boxes are manufactured and shipped all over the United States. In a year's time the plant makes as high as 2,100,000 boxes and uses 1800 kegs of nails in the operation. The president of the company is Thomas Monroe and the local plant manager is E. L. Miller.

Boston Bees Do Not Shape Up As Winning Ball Club

Have Fairly Good Infield—But Are In Need Of Outfield Strength

Lou Fette Is Best Of Pitchers, Do Not Have Many Promising Rookies

By SID MERCER
International News Service Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—If anybody is to be stung by the Boston Bees, who swarmed in here today to contribute some grapefruit league honey to the Yankees, it will be Casey Stengel.

Ol' Case is one manager who isn't kidding himself. He lets out many a private moan as he contemplates the scant material provided for him to round out a National league team.

Mike Kelly, silver thatched owner of the Minneapolis club, took a peek the other day at Casey's collection of nearly 50 ball players with which the Bees and their Hartford, Evansville and Bradford, Pa., farms will be stocked.

"I don't believe that gang can beat my Minneapolis club," cracked Michael.

"That's one thing I won't have to worry about," Casey cracked back, "for I won't have to play the Minneapolis club."

Of the erstwhile pitching dependables only Lou Fette is left and he was 33 this month. The Bees apparently have not improved their punch. Their infield is being revamped and with Tony Cuccinello on third, the brilliant Eddie Miller at short, Les Scarcella at first base and young Sebastian Sisti at second base, it has a chance to click.

Outfield Weak

The outfield is weak. Buddy Hasset is listed as a fly chaser now, but may be back on first base any day. Carcella has been up before and failed to make the grade. Hasset and Cuccinello were the only .300 hitters on the Bees last year. Max West, Hasset, Jimmy Outlaw and the 38-year-old Johnny Cooney, now doubling as a coach, are the only outfield holdovers as Debs Garms was recently sold to the Pirates. Of the six rookie outfielders only one—Hubert Bates, from Memphis—had advanced as far as Class A1 in the minors.

Sailor Bill Posedel and Fette are the standout pitchers. Danny MacFayden, John Lanning and Jim Turner have departed and Jim Tobin and Bill Swift were acquired in deals with the Pittsburgh club. Bill Weir and Joe Sullivan are the left handers. Among the newcomers are Al Piechota and Nick Strincevick, cut loose from the Yankee chain last fall.

Have Three Catchers

Phil Masi is improving as an understudy for catcher Al Lopez, with Stanley Andrews as the third string receiver.

Cuccinello, moved from second to third base, is rapidly acquiring the technic of his new position. Great hopes are pinned on Sisti, who has displaced Cuccinello in the keystone spot but he is only 19 years old. Henry Majeski and Rabbitt Warstler are the extra infielders.

It doesn't seem possible that any big league team can be worse than the Phillies but if the cellar champions are to be dispossessed this year the Bees are the logical new tenants. They rate no better than seventh place.

Mike Marcantino Given Contract With Washington

West Pittsburg First Baseman Will Be With Washington In Penn State League

Franklyn R. Crisci, talent scout for the All-American baseball school at Palatka, Fla., today received a letter from Mike Marcantino of West Pittsburg to the effect that the Washington Senators will place him this coming summer at Washington, Pa., in the Penn State league.

Kid Eberley of the Washington scouting staff says that the West Pittsburg boy is one of the best looking prospects that he has seen for sometime. He believes that Marcantino has big league possibilities.

The many friends of the young man in West Pittsburg and New Castle will be glad to learn that he has landed a minor league contract.

Hope To Have Eight Clubs In Lawrence Loop

Lawrence County Baseball league, having staged the annual banquet which was followed by the initial meeting of the season, now will look forward to the 1940 season.

Efforts will be made to make the baseball year the banner season in the history of the league. The next meeting will be April 4.

Among the players who have branched from the Lawrence loop into faster company at one time or another are Johnny Pepe, Jewie Coen, Paul McCullough, the Marshall boys, Mickey Huff, Paul Vahey, George Byak, Mike Orlando, Blackie Fundoots and others.

According to President Alex Samuels the league officers would like to have at least eight clubs in the circuit this season and indications at this time point to this.

Bonura Refuses Offer Of $10,000

Zeke "Bananas" Bonura Wants $15,000 For Services In 1940 Season

GIVEN PERMISSION TO TRADE HIMSELF

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 22—The most forlorn figure and the most unique and pathetic in baseball today is Henry (Zeke) Bonura, the unemployed former first baseman of the New York Giants. Perhaps he is not so pathetic considering that Owner Horace Stoneham has offered him $10,000 for next season and Zeke won't sign for less than $15,000. I mean it might be a little difficult to feel sorry for a man who can go to work but won't for $10,000. However, there is another side to all this, and Bonura's case undoubtedly is without parallel. The better he gets the less they want to pay him. The man without a country had nothing on this first baseman without a first base.

In the first place, Zeke wants to play baseball. He is one of those guys who is happiest with a glove on or a bat in his hand, so he has been trying to make Owner Stoneham and Manager Bill Terry see his viewpoint and, with their permission trying to trade himself to some other club. Unfortunately for him, the Giants don't want him and another club can't have him. Nobody else will pay the Giants enough to make his release worth while—to the Giants.

Young At First

So the New York Club goes through its spring training work at Winter Haven, Fla., with Babe Young holding down first base and with Bonura given the privilege of signing for $10,000 or getting out of baseball. The Giant officials assume that Young is going to be all right and that Bonura will only fill in as understudy.

As Owner Stoneham put it, $10,000 is enough to pay for a benchwarmer and pinch-hitter."

However, it so happens that Bonura led the Giants in hitting last season with an average of .321 and in runs batted in with 85. Defensively, Zeke wasn't so hot despite his average on fielding. He gives a lot of infield slaps the high-ball signal and lets the right-fielder worry about them.

Still, at bat he is the best of the Giants and it is a pretty good bet that the Giants will be looking for him or somebody else by mid-July or sooner, for Young may not and probably will not hit.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tony Galento has been shifted from No. 1 challenger of Joe Louis world's heavyweight champion and in his stead is Arturo Godoy, the Chilean who went 15 rounds with the champion recently. Galento has been relegated to second place. The rating was made by the National Boxing association. In the middleweight division Al Hostak has been put in first place, Ceferino Garcia, second, Ken Overlin, third and Tony Zale, fourth. This is somewhat surprising because Zale beat Hostak recently. Tony fought recently in Youngstown scoring a quick knockout over Enzo Ianozza. Monday night in Youngstown the fans will see Billy Soose and Johnny Dean on the same card. Soose will fight Frankie Nelson and Dean will box Irving Sarlin. Several years ago Sooze and Dean fought in a preliminary in California. Soose received the decision which Dean claims was undeserved. When fans go into the fight hall Monday night they will be able to see the progress made by both middleweights.

Wrestling opponents have been here several times in an effort to have the mat game resume. However, so far nothing has been done. Grappling did not prove a very lucretive sport here although some of the best grapplers in the country displayed their holds.

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association are hustling night and day in an effort to make their coming banquet March 28, the biggest and best ever. President George Sillman and Chairman W. Henry Rodgers are pointing for a 1,500 attendance.

With trout season less than a month away fly casters are fixing their rods and getting the kinks out of their lines. Just what the season will bring forth depends upon various conditions. No doubt Taylor Run, Deer Creek and the Little Neshannock will get a big play the first day.

Jimmie Cypher, former president of the Lawrence County Baseball League and an ardent fisherman and hunter has a private fishing hole. That is, he knows one spot, he he always can fish out one trout whenever he goes there but never yet has been able to get two there.

Several days ago we espied Dick Roberts, three reels in hand, journeying through Washington street.

Sports World Ramblings

Putting the sport spotlight here and there—Johnny Kraft, who formerly pounded a typewriter on this sheet, is the new tenpin champ of the Westfield, N. J., Y. M. C. A. Kraft was in rare form in the finals, bowling over 682 pins. As yet, we haven't learned whether or not he will compete in the A. B. C.

Bill Cole, strictly a .400 clubber, has been invited by the Cardinals to report to one of four training belts for a tryout. The Ellwoodian, a teammate of Ray Johns, may report to the Portsmouth club of the Middle-Atlantic loop. Cole is 21, stands 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighs 162 pounds. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cole, New Castle road.

Cole, a third sacker, slapped the ball at a mark well past the .400 pace in 1938. Last season, his meter read .420. A broken leg, however, snapped his career in July. He was hurt in Bessemer and was unable to play during the remainder of the season. He is an excellent fielder. In 1938 he played basketball and football at Geneva college.

"Chick" Davies, major domo of Duquesne university, came out in the open a couple of nights ago, stating that Lester "Bus" Reiber, the ex-local high sphere specialist, is a "comer". Reiber's showing in the Colorado clash probably gave Davies the idea that the blond athlete has something on the ball. Reiber is a sophomore.

Diamond odds and ends—The Boston Red Sox have outhit the Yanks, as a team, for the past two seasons. In 1938, the Beantowners posted a .299 mark compared to .274 for the Yanks. Last year, Boston forged to the front, .291 to .288.... Freddy Fitzsimmons, the Dodger veteran, needs only eight more victories to join the "200 wins" class.

Spring training drum beaters report that "Hank" Greenberg looks like tops in his new outfield station. They make little mention of Rudy York's progress at first. Greenberg's old post on the Detrot nine...Here's an oddity: Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox clouter deluxe, usually collects the most hits during a season. Yet he uses the fewest bats!

At least 50 of the players made free agents by Judge Landis' purge of the Detroit Tigers are on the loose....Aside to "Buddy": Bobby Feller won 24 victories against nine defeats; Bucky Walters came in with 27 triumphs against 11 setbacks. Yet, you are correct. Harry Danning of the Giants outhit Bill Dickey of the Yankees. Danning posted a .313 mark compared to .302 for Dickey.

Bits of this and that—Since he started coaching back in 1919, at Lafayette, "Jock" Sutherland's teams have won 144 victories, lost 28 and were deadlocked 14 times. At Pitt, Sutherland's clubs copped 111 tiffs, lost 20 and were tied 12 times.... Roller Derby is outdrawing the dogs in the Miami area, which is quite unusual...A recent checkup showed that 55,000 inhabitants of Montreal are skiers!

Duquesne Cops Championship By Jarring Long Island, 22-17

After spotting their foes five points, Duquesne came back to score a 22-17 victory over Long Island to cop the Pearson boys' tourney.

At a later date, the following members of the championship team will receive gold medals: Gene Pace, Francis Stockman, Cliff Humphrey, "Bugs" DiGennaro and Billy Robinson.

William Patton, supervisor, selected the following as the most outstanding performers:

Gillest, Naples, Humphrey, Fraser and J. Adams. Humphrey was high scorer.

Patton, Ben Ciccone and Charles Richards, supervisors, are making plans to honor Duquesne, Long Island and Geneva at a banquet.

Fastest Relay Race In Making

Dan Ferris Picks Western Quartet To Meet Eastern Team In Finnish Fund Relay

COCHRAN BIG TEN QUARTER MILE CHAMP

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 22—The fastest relay mile ever run on a standard-sized indoor track was in the making today as Dan (AAU) Ferris selected the western quartet which will meet a picked four from the east at the Finnish relief track meet in Madison Square Garden March 31.

The fastest mile ever run on the 11-lap garden track was a sensational 3:19 made several years ago but Ferris is confident this time can be beaten, and to break this record he intends to start eight men each capable of running the quarter in 48 seconds!

Only a few years ago he couldn't have found half a dozen 48-second men in the whole world but now he promises to show in one race eight Americans who can turn the trick.

Fine Commentary

"And what," Dan adds, "is a fine commentary on the development of speed in this country and a sure indication of what our boys would have done of the Olympics were held this year."

The big four from the west for this race are Roy Cochran of Indiana, Warren Breidenbach of Michigan, Jack Sulzman of Ohio State and Frank Ohl of Pittsburgh.

Cochran is the big ten quarter mile champion. Breidenbach was clocked in 47.6 last spring and Sulzman was runner up to him outdoors in 47.6. Ohl has run a furlong in 21.2 and Ferris thinks he is a sure bet to run a quarter in 48 or better.

These are real speed marvels who are fully capable of beating 3:19 in the garden. However, the east can produce four who are at least as good and the ensuing battle when they meet should be a fitting climax to the indoor track season.

Ferris hasn't definitely decided on his eastern quartet but it is not stretching the imagination to suppose that Jim Herbert of N. Y. U. Dick Gill and Douglas Raymond of Boston and Charley Belcher of Georgia Tech are the most probable starters.

"Where to?" was a query. "To send back these reels to have them reconditioned," he replied. Roberts reported he has practiced this for years and always has reels properly attuned.

There arrived today a photo scene from Riverside, Calif., the writer being Jimmie Dunn, ex-local fighter. He inquired about Jack Ryan, who years and years ago managed Dunn. From reports we gathered today Jack is living in the Pittsburgh district and has retired from mill work.

Met Cowden Moore several nights ago. Cowden has recovered from an illness. In yesteryear Cowden was a foot racer and if recollection serves correctly he ran in one of the first marathons ever staged in this district.

Another runner, but more recently, was Lin Dilks. For years, it was no strange sight to see him running, regardless of weather conditions, in different sections. He participated in the famous "Bunion" derby staged by Cash and Carry Pyle. He left the field after racing from California, east of Chicago.

The first day of Spring having gone and the majors in the south and west, local baseball satellites are looking forward to baseball. Paul Mc Cullough, the hurler is taking off weight and Mickie Huff appeared the picture of fitness yesterday when we met him.

A six day bicycle race is planned for Pittsburgh, beginning April 14, which recalls that a year ago some of the younger element participated in some races at the local Fair grounds. It might come to pass that something along the bicycle line might be arranged here this summer.

Concerning an item in this column recently in which it was reported Eddie Zajac, Chicago, led in three of the four divisions of A. B. C. in Detroit, Ralph Brooks said he believes that the Chicago Eddie may be a former resident of Oakland. The Moose and Eagles will bowl in Detroit, April 10-11.

Morrie Suber, light heavyweight wrestler, intends to resume wrestling in Natchez, Miss., he told the writer several days ago. Morrie has wrestled throughout different sections of the country and was one of the best light-heavies in this district.

Bridenbaugh, Nelson Address Cosmo Club

Phil H. Bridenbaugh, New Castle High athletic coach, and Norman "Scoots" Nelson, faculty manager, were principal speakers during Thursday night's open house party of the Cosmo club, held in Cosmo club, 217 North Mercer street.

In his talk, Nelson stressed sportsmanship. "New Castle is noted for being a poor sporting town. I plead with you men to help alleviate this condition. If you set the example, the student body will follow; so will others," Nelson pointed out.

He explained that fandom includes all types. "There are fans who measure the team by the wins and losses. Then there are the fans who like football and want to see good football games. We have been fortunate in averting unpleasant scenes due to the high class of officials. The best officials in the district take care of local games," Nelson said.

Bridenbaugh briefly reviewed the start of his coaching days here, back in 1922, when New Castle practiced on Boyles field. Then he outlined the changes that have taken place. "Instead of Boyles field, we have Taggart stadium, one of the finest high school fields in the state—in the country for that matter. As for the equipment our boys wear the best we can afford. Their equipment is as good, if not better, than many high schools and colleges," Bridenbaugh asserted.

"I have been fortunate. I have had excellent material during all these years. Lately, we have lost some games. That can be explained by reviewing the schedules which have been too hard for our teams," the popular coach stated.

"Athletics here are self-sustaining. This can be explained by the following. The bigger the crowds, the bigger the take in. Crowds at our games have been excellent," Bridenbaugh declared.

He mentioned briefly, psychology breaks of the game, sportsmanship and condition of athletes.

Dan Fisher, a former captain at New Castle High, and Ted Marlin, a standout player of yesteryear, lauded their former coach. They praised his ability and congratulated him.

Nathan Love opened the event by welcoming the assemblage. He outlined the purposes of the Cosmo club. He then introduced Charles A. Landolf, a New Castle News sports writer.

Luncheon was served at the conclusion of the speeches.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

It seems that some people read this column . . . the other day we mentioned that those interested in dogs could have the ones we mentioned in the column by merely calling the phone number that was opposite the dog . . . one woman called and said that so many people called for the dog that she had to give away that she was tempted to tell the telephone operator to tell all those who called that the dog was given away . . . and that in addition she was going to put a sign on the front door to the same effect . . . we are glad to hear that such a response took place and hope that in the future we will be able to help other dog lovers.

First it snows, then the sun comes out and then spring gets in the air . . . my but we have a wonderful climate here in Pennsylvania . . . never a dull moment. It would seem to me that those who live in warm climates all the time would get kind of tired of it . . . but just between us now, we are ready for a little of that warm stuff . . . good old sol.

And here is stanza 2 of "What Makes Home"
Grand Canyon was majestic.
Boulder Dam took our breath away.
The sunset over the Pacific
Left us with nothing to say.
The snow on the mountains, was dazzling,
The trees were so big and so tall;
But when it comes to real living
We take New Castle, after all.

Soon the children will be out in the open to play . . . you who drive a motor car please bear in mind that children are children and they sometimes forget . . . but you are grown up and are not supposed to forget. When you see children on the street drive doubly careful . . . children were here before any of us and one life can't be measured in dollar and cents . . . So let's all do our part and protect the children of these United States.

Rescue Squad Has Business Meeting

C. V. Rodgers, W. R. Maxwell Installed As President, Vice President

ELLWOOD CITY, March 22—The Rescue Squad of the Ellwood City Volunteer Fire Department met last night at the Fire Building in their regular weekly meeting. A business meeting was called instead of the regular scheduled meeting on salvage and ventilation in order to take care of several urgent business matters.

Reports of the squad leaders and the various committees indicated that the squad was progressing rapidly in an effort to become an asset and a genuine aid to the community.

Through the generous response and cooperation of council and the various organizations in town, the squad is acquiring important pieces of equipment and the means of obtaining the incidental items needed for efficient operation of the squad.

C. V. Rodgers was installed as the first president of the squad and W. R. Maxwell also took office as the first vice president as part of the program for relieving the responsibilities of the captain and squad leaders. The latter officers will now be able to bend every effort toward the complete instruction of the members in the more important subjects in which the squad is interested.

The officers now active in the rescue squad are H. V. Wolfe, Fire Chief C. E. Kocher, Captain Robert Henry, Robert Dambach, Arthur Duncan, and John McDeavitt, squad leaders, for emergency work and instruction. In charge of the business functions are C. V. Rodgers, president; W. R. Maxwell, vice president, and L. L. Maxwell, secretary and treasurer.

A special meeting of the squad will be held next Monday night at 7 P. M. at the Fire Building to receive instructions in the proper operation of a resuscitator. There will be a series of meetings in the near future for this same purpose.

The next meeting of the rescue squad will be held next Thursday evening under Squad Leader Arthur Duncan to study salvage and ventilation.

Baptist Church Mission Society

ELLWOOD CITY, March 22 — Following communion services, members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church gathered last evening in the church parlor for the general monthly meeting with forty-one members participating.

Group Three was in charge of the devotions being led by Mrs. J. D. Ferguson and Miss Lila Hazen. Captain, Mrs. David Williams, was in charge with a review of the study book being given by Miss Bessie Runyan.

During the informal social hour that followed a tempting lunch was served by a committee of four, Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. Samuel Mathews, Mrs. Hazel French and Mrs. Bert Fisher. Another meeting will be held at the church on Thursday, April 18.

King's Daughters Elect Officers

Annual Dinner Of United Presbyterian Church Class Is Most Enjoyable

ELLWOOD CITY, March 22.—Most enjoyable was the annual business meeting and dinner of the King's Daughters class of the First U. P. church held last evening at the First U. P. church.

The forty members attending were served a delicious turkey dinner at prettily appointed tables featuring Easter decorations. Mrs. Olive Rhea was chairman of the dinner committee and her aides were Mrs. Hugh Tomb, Mrs. H. E. McClymonds, Mrs. John Aggas and Mrs. Dave Anderson.

After the devotional period led by Mrs. L. E. Springer, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George Burrows; vice president, Mrs. Frank McKim; secretary, Mrs. Carl Bauder; assistant, Mrs. Joe Kaiser; and treasurer, Mrs. James Jones. The annual treasurer's report showed a most successful year financially.

Members were pleased to welcome back three of the class, Mrs. Rae Boots, Mrs. J. C. Snowden and Mrs. Oswald Lersch, who recently underwent major operations.

Thursday, April 18, marks the date of the next meeting.

Kensington Club At Lauderbaugh's
